CHAVEZ ON WAY TO FISTIC FAME

SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

By Robert Edgren

A small group of American golfers is about to sail for England to compete in the international Ryder cup matches at Muirfield, April 26-27 and the British Open championship at Muirfield, May 6.

The names of most of the players are fairly well known. In the party will be Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, Leo Diegel and Johnny Farrell. "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, who wasn't picked for the Ryder cup team, but has been cracking all sorts of golf records these two months past, goes over alone. Bobby Cruickshank went across months in advance to get a lot of practice on English courses, and many others have gone or are going.

Invading England used to be a one-man job, but now everybody's doing it. It's a popular pastime. English golfers were once considered unbeatable. Now there's a theory that if mus hunting is too hard in America, any American golfer can pick up a collection in England.

Until the time of the World war, John Bull, with outstanding golfers like Harry Vardon, James Braid, J. H. Taylor and Ted Ray had a monopoly on two honors. Up to that time no one from this side had

Smith New Golf Marvel

HAIL YOUTH AS ANOTHER JONES AFTER VICTORY

By Frank Getty

United Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, March 28.—Horton Smith, 20-year-old golf professional of Joplin, Mo., did not need his sensational victory in the North and South Open tournament at Pinehurst yesterday to be recognized as the outstanding golfer of the winter season.

Already Smith's victories over the country's leading professionals in the open championships of Oklahoma City, Catalina Island, Pensacola, Fort Myers, Florida and La Gorce had won him recognition.

But when the youngster from Joplin followed up his triumph by winning the North-South Open at Pinehurst, he set golf critics the world over to asking if a new star of the links had arisen to eclipse Bobby Jones, long regarded as having no equal in the firmament of tee and hazard.

Smith won out yesterday at Pinehurst by shooting a 67 for his morning round, winding up by leading Tommy Armour, former amateur champion by two strokes with a total of 287.

Marvel of Consistency
The fact that a professional golfer shot a 67, five strokes under par, and came through to win one of the coveted prizes of the South would not cause any more than passing comment, if this same professional had not been doing something of the sort all winter.

Golf, as played by professionals in this day and age, has reached a stage where only consistency surprises.

Horton Smith might have won himself half a dozen tournaments during the winter and still have been regarded as one of those flashes in the pan who flare up ever so often.

But when a youngster of 20, who has traveled some 14,000 miles and won more than $14,000 in prize money, tops off such a record by winning both the La Gorce and North-South Opens, one can hardly withhold from him the most extravagant praise a game essentially Scotch permits one to give.

Successor To Jones
With the announcement at Pinehurst that Bobby Jones was considering retiring, the question of the Atlanta's successor naturally arose. At the moment, it looks as though Horton Smith, at 20, stands the best chance of filling Bobby's shoes as the outstanding golfer of the world.

It might be said that Jones himself, even in his greatest form, never compiled as great a record of consecutive victories in major tournaments as has Smith this winter. Naturally, the Joplin, Mo., pro, despite what he has done during the last few months, must continue to keep up the good work if he is to be rated up with Jones and the immortals.

Horton Smith gives every sign of being capable of winning such a rating.

BEAVERS TO PAY WILLIAMS' SALARY THROUGHOUT SEASON

Every pay day through the coming season, Mrs. Denny Williams will receive from the Portland baseball club the full amount of her husband's pay check, Tom L. Turner, president, has announced. Williams was killed in an auto accident, in which four other Portland players were injured, near San Clemente last Saturday night.

The Portland club also will pay all funeral expenses and will endeavor to arrange for a general league "Williams Day" with all receipts that day going to the bereaved widow.

Turner has wired 10 major league teams for ball players and said he would spend a fortune if necessary to rebuild his club. He is especially anxious to land Ken Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder, who, although no relation of Williams', also is an Oregon-bred athlete.

BOY PAID $1.50 FOR INITIAL GO NOW HEADLINER

By Ringsider

A lean, hungry, tousle-haired little Mexican boy, clad only in a home-constructed pair of trunks, made an uncertain way down the aisle of an obscure tobacco-smuggled fight club at Huntington Beach two years ago and began a fistic career that may—who knows?—skyrocket him to heights greater than any of his countrymen, Sorio, Colima, Joe Rivers or Hererra, have scaled.

The pot of gold is waiting for a real Mexican ring champion and this young fellow—Zenaydo Chavez, of Santa Ana—may be the one to cash in where the others failed.

Chavez got exactly $1.50 for knocking out Billy Forbes that eventful night.

Signs To Box Adams
Through Earl Grigsby, his manager, Chavez today signed articles of agreement for two 10-round main events at Wilmington that will enrich the family he supports $1000, possibly more.

Chavez will meet the San Bernardino "Mountain Lion," Johnny Adams, on April 17 and Johnny Priston, of San Francisco, May 23. If he wins both decisively it is understood, on good authority, Chavez will be offered a match either at Wilmington or the Olympic in Los Angeles with the reigning but somewhat reticently defending junior welterweight champion of the world, Mushy Callahan.

Chavez has done pretty well in the fight game already. He started as an amateur and most of his recompense was slight but as he improved his "prizes" increased accordingly. Amateurs were supposed to be boxing for the love of the sport, and Chavez was for that matter, but he was getting paid, as all amateurs were, just as everybody knew.

Critics Impressed
He went professional eventually and success, fickle though success is, followed. Chavez became a main event. He won, sometimes decisively when he could drive in his great right hand, and sometimes not so decisively when he couldn't, but he kept winning.

He beat Jimmie Rivers in a spectacular bout. He knocked out Yerde Whitehead and stopped Billy Clark. He meets Johnny Nandez, an old time opponent of the amateur days, here next week and then again boxes Rivers, who is apt to prove a stumbling block. Adams, Priston and the then Callahan—maybe!

Chavez is still little more than a novice. He must learn to box better and must, like Jack Dempsey had to do, train his left hand to be more than just a hand. But the experts say he has infinite possibilities.

VISIONS ROSY RING FUTURE

Al Lassman, captain of the New York university football squad who was seriously injured in the last game of the 1928 season, is on the road to health again and hopeful of entering the professional ring.

With a courage far finer than any ever shown on the gridiron or in the ring, Al Lassman is waging a winning fight against injuries which had him under the goal posts of death.

At his parental home in Cambridge, Mass., the stout-hearted New York university football and ring hero is on the home stretch to good health and to his greatest ambition, the professional prize ring.

After the serious injuries Lassman suffered in the Carnegie Tech-N. Y. U. game last fall, there remained a great danger of his being a helpless invalid for life. There seemed scant hope that he would ever regain his former athletic condition.

But Lassman did not curl up. After a siege in the hospital, he went to Miami for a long rest. The sunny southern climate and the complete relaxation worked wonders for his condition. Just recently All returned to his old home, where his many friends report him near a complete cure.

He realizes his head injuries may be a permanent handicap to his progress in the fight game, still he visions a heavyweight championship and the wealth that goes with it, which he would use to build a dream home for his father and mother.

DONS TO MEET FULLERTON IN TRACK FRIDAY

Santa Ana junior college will meet an old rival, Fullerton, in its last dual track and field meet of the Southern California J. C. conference season on the Santa Ana track tomorrow afternoon.

The clash originally was scheduled for Saturday but was moved ahead in order to accommodate the high school team which has a meet scheduled with the undefeated San Diego Hilltoppers that day.

Neither Santa Ana nor Fullerton has won a meet this season and the result is expected to be close.

Keen interest is being shown in the 100 and 220 yard dashes in which the red-headed Don captain, Maurice Guyer, will be making his last dual meet start for Santa Ana. Guyer is in great condition and anxiously awaiting his meeting at San Bernardino April 13 with Frank Wykoff, America's premier sprinter, who is running for Glendale junior college and who will be an entrant in the All-Conference classic.

HOKY AND SLIDES

By Henry L. Farrell

Did you know that—
Gil Doble, Cornell football coach, told the old grads they ought to pay him to get out if he was such a rotten coach. . . . And that he would surrender his contract for thirty grand. . . . Dempsey didn't go to the dinner the New York boxing writers gave for Bill Carey, the new Garden boss. . . . He said the dinner was given to Carey and he ought to have the spotlight. . . . But they say the Demps is sore because Carey got the credit for putting over the Miami Beach thing. . . . And when it looked like a sure failure it was Dempsey's show. . . . The entertainment of the press in Miami Beach cost the Garden bunch $50,000. . . . They said. . . . But it was charged to expenses and came out of the gross. . . . And it took five grand out of Dempsey's end. . . . 'Tis said.

WHAT A MAN, EH!
If ever an honest tribute was paid to the skill and ability of a young man it was paid to Bucky Harris, the new manager of the Detroit Tigers, in the training camps of the other American league clubs.

Every manager of the seven other clubs in the league admitted the greatest respect for the power and possibilities of the Detroit club and when pressed for a reason they all paid a compliment, directly or indirectly, to Harris.

Those who did not mention the skill of the new manager as their first reason for respecting the team said—"That Uhle might win thirty ball games this year." And in the next breath the flowers were tossed at "Bucky" with the explanation—"He'll pitch for Harris."

WORRIED ABOUT ATHLETICS
Since it has appeared in print there is no obligation to hold a confidence and it can be said that Connie Mack is sorely distressed about his Athletics. When I was in Ft. Myers he told me, confidentially, that he was not at all satisfied with his team. He didn't want to be quoted at that time for obvious reasons but since then he apparently is willing to admit his concern.

He said that Orwoll had been a big disappointment. He had counted on using him as a regular first baseman on his last year's form. But he was way off this year and he was afraid he wouldn't do.

He has his doubts about Hale at third base. Not for the reason that some of the ball players say but because he has become convinced that his hands are too small.

He also was worried about his outfield. Not about the regulars but what would happen if one of the regulars should be injured. He hasn't enough reserves of the right kind.

Southern Teams In Hoop Finals
WICHITA, Kan., March 28.—With teams from all other parts of the country eliminated, the National A. U. girls' basketball tournament became a fight between Southern teams today.

The Schepps' Aces, of Dallas, may meet Randolph college of Cisco, Tex., in the finals here, just as they met in the finals of the A. A. U. Southern tournament two weeks ago. Both teams were among the five winners last night.

Cisco defeated the Kansas City Fairylands, 22 to 15. Schepps' Aces defeated the Panthers of Palatka, Fla., 40 to 15.

Pennsylvania has upwards of 100,000 hunters of big game.

SEALS EVEN SERIES WITH 'OUR BEAVERS'

The 1928 champion Seals won their second start of the Pacific Coast league's new season yesterday against Portland by a 3 to 1 score, evening the series. But for several minutes in the ninth inning, when the Beavers had socked out three hits and scored their lone tally, things looked bad for the Seals. Portland had two men on base with two outs scored against them and Joe Bush hit a high long one to left field. It looked like a homer, but "Red" Wingo got under it against the bleachers.

Los Angeles made it two straight against Seattle, with another lopsided score of 13 to 3. The Indians led up to the sixth, when Dave Barbee lost a fly in the sun and the Angels started a four-run rally. Just to make sure, the Angels pelted the pill for five more runs in the seventh and three more in the eighth.

Sacramento took the lead in the fourth inning to beat Hollywood two straight, 5 to 4. The Oaks won the second of their games on the same grounds, 3 to 1, after having dropped the opener to the Missions.

FIGURE WALKER CIVIL WARFARE IF K. O. TOMMY WON BY SAINT BALL CLUB, 6-3

CHICAGO, March 28.—Tommy Loughran will have an eight pound weight advantage over Mickey Walker when the two meet in their light heavyweight title bout here tonight.

Loughran sprang a surprise this afternoon when he weighed in at 173-14, a loss of nine pounds since he started training. Few had expected the champion to get below 174. Walker weighed in at 165.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Walker by a knockout; or Loughran by a decision.

That opinion was the consensus today as Tommy Loughran prepared to defend his light heavyweight championship against Mickey Walker before the largest indoor crowd in history here tonight.

Confident of victory, both men were in fine condition and it seemed reasonable to assume that each will resort to his particular way of fighting.

Walker's style is the bulldog rush, designed to knock out an opponent. Loughran prefers to box and his ability in this respect indicates he will take the decision if he can avoid a knockout.

After Third Title
If Walker wins, he will become a three title-holder, an honor which only Bob Fitzsimmons has held. Mickey is the present midweight champion and he held the welterweight crown for several years.

There are those who believe that Mickey is a good enough boxer to hold his own over the 10 rounds and it seems likely that Loughran, with his 10-pound weight advantage, will beat the middleweight titleholder if the match goes the limit.

Mickey probably will weigh no more than 165 pounds. Loughran must weigh in at 175 by 3 o'clock this afternoon and he will take on two or three pounds by the time the fight starts.

Mickey Fast Starter
Apparently Walker's best chance will come during the first three rounds. Mickey is a fast starter and Loughran begins slowly. In several fights it has taken Tom-

Civil warfare broke out in the Santa Ana baseball camp yesterday with the high school defeating the junior college, 6 to 3, in a six inning quarrel at Poly field.

Earl Homan was on the ridge for the Saints and blanked the Dons in every round except the fifth when hits by Whitman, Lenain, Edson and Dungan and an error produced three scores.

The high schoolers got a pair in the third on Wright's single. Homan's double and Sullivan's sacrifice. Reichstein got a walk in the fourth, stole second and scored on Wright's second single.

The teams went into the last frame at three—all but the Saints picked up their winning counters on singles by Youel and Vance, a walk, two stolen bases, a fielder's choice and an infield out.

OWNERS ORGANIZING TO OPPOSE LANDIS?

SARASOTA, Fla., March 28.—Disgruntled representatives of American league clubs affected by the recent ruling of Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, declaring nine well known players in free agents, may meet here today to confer on the matter.

Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, is understood to have been flying in his airplane from one Florida training camp to another, soliciting support for a movement to oppose Judge Landis.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, is heartily in accord with Ball in opposition to the commissioner, and it is understood here that support also has been obtained from the Philadelphia American league club, which was affected by the sensational ruling.

Mexican Rebels Reported Retreating On Two Fronts

REPORTS ARE SENT OUT BY AMBASSADOR

Dwight Morrow Says Insurgents Evacuate Jimenez and Mazatlan City

BATTLE IS IMMINENT

Rebellion Is Localized In States of Sonora and Also Around Chihuahua

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(UP)—Mexican rebels are retreating on both fronts, according to information received by the state department from Ambassador Dwight Morrow today.

In the state of Sinaloa where the rebel attack on Mazatlan failed, rebels were reported withdrawing to Culiacan and on the north central front they were reported to have evacuated Jimenez.

Agarian bands are reported to have attacked the main railway line between Culiacan and San Blas, in western Mexico, but whether this would interfere with the rebel retreat was not known.

While there was a possibility of an engagement between the federal and the main body of the rebels at Jimenez, in southern Chihuahua, it was suggested here the rebels would follow the tactics adopted at Torreon when they withdrew without offering battle.

Military observers believe the rebels are more likely to make a stand further north in Chihuahua, perhaps in the vicinity of Chihuahua City, than at Jimenez.

Reports to the state department indicate the rebellion now is localized in the states of Sonora and Chihuahua and the northern two-thirds of Sinaloa. One of the factors mitigating against rebel successes, it is said here, is the apparent lack of co-ordination between General Escobar, in command of the north central rebels and General Roberto Cruz, commander of the rebels who attempted to take Mazatlan and to push on to Mexico City.

Waterfront Cold Storage Building Promised For S. F.

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—(UP)—Definite steps toward the purchase of Mission rock, off the San Francisco waterfront, and the construction of a state-owned ship-side cold storage warehouse were announced today by Gov. C. C. Young.

It is estimated that this project to solve problems of agricultural exports from California will cost the state approximately $2,000,000.

The state will acquire Mission rock either at a reasonable price or by condemnation proceedings, the governor promised.

Unsold bonds for more than $4,000,000 are held by the state board of harbor commissioners, the governor said, and this money will be used to defray expenses of building the warehouse.

OIL PRODUCERS AGREE TO CUT YEARLY OUTPUT

1929 Production Will Not Be Any Greater Than That of 1928

NEW YORK, March 28.—(UP)—The great oil producers of the western world have agreed to limit 1929 production to the average output of last year.

Representatives from Venezuela, Mexico, Colombia and all parts of the United States met in secret session yesterday and reached agreement on a plan that will go into effect April 1. It was regarded as particularly significant that Sir Henri Detering, managing director of the Royal Dutch-Shell companies of Europe, attended the meeting and pledged his "100 per cent co-operation" to the curtailment program.

While details of the meeting were not made public in the official statement, it was learned that the agreement was reached only after a stirring debate. At one time Sir Henri made little effort to conceal the fact that he was displeased with the attitude taken by some members of the conference.

Later, however, he seemed entirely satisfied.

Persons attending the conference said price stabilization was only an incidental feature of the discussion. It was explained that conservation and the elimination of waste were what the industry was hoping to accomplish.

While the present plan affects only the western hemisphere, oil experts were looking forward today to a world agreement.

The decision to curtail production to the average for 1928, brought out the fact that last year the daily production average in the United States was 2,453,051 barrels. This year the daily production has been about 200,000 barrels in excess of the 1928 figure.

It was announced the federal government would co-operate in the curtailment activities. Although the present plan is based on voluntary co-operation of producers.

Confesses Killing Pal After Quarrel Over Robbery Loot

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(UP)—Francis E. Ward, alias Joe Williams, has made a full confession to the murder of Jackie Starr, 36, in San Francisco, January 4, the sheriff's office announced here today.

His written admission, according to officers, said he struck Starr over the head with a chair and then shot him after a bitter argument over the division of goods they had taken in holdups.

Cabinet Head Says Business Outlook Good

Robert Lamont Declares in Interview That Fear of Slump Groundless

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(UP)—Fortified by sound underlying conditions, business in general has nothing to fear from a severe stock market slump, Secretary of Commerce Robert R. Lamont said today.

"Every indicator of business conditions is now favorable," Lamont said, "and any recession in the stock market will not have an adverse effect on existing commercial and industrial prosperity."

Amplifying his views on the business outlook, Lamont said there is no reason for not thinking this year will be fully as prosperous as 1928 when new high records of activity were established in many leading lines.

"Business is in strong hands and is well entrenched," he added. "Big business is not borrowing on a large scale and loans to business are chiefly for certain seasonal purposes. For that reason, stock market activity can have little or no effect on our basic prosperity."

"If interest rates should continue high over a long period it might cause some hesitation and reduce building awards somewhat," Lamont said, however, he does not expect any stock market crash of major proportions. In any event, he emphasized, the stock market no longer dominates business and the market's present dislocation cannot interfere with business progress and prosperity.

Citing figures compiled by the commerce department on the basis of latest available reports, Lamont continued:

"Steel production was 95 per cent of normal in February and early March while automobile production increased 50 per cent over last year for passenger cars and 100 per cent for trucks to new record proportions."

"Business failures, also, are fewer now than a year ago, and the liabilities involved are less. Building contracts for that period were slightly below the previous month but it is too early to view this as indicating a general decline."

"A general high level of production in all lines is the chief characteristic of the present business situation and there is no reason for thinking 1929 will be less prosperous than 1928."

"Largely increased income tax returns are rather astonishing and indicate a general level of industrial and commercial prosperity as well as individual gains from speculation during 1928."

Block Burned In PLACERVILLE FIRE

PLACERVILLE, March 28.—(UP)—Fire which threatened to wipe out this city was brought under control late yesterday after destroying one business block and a portion of the residential district, doing damage estimated at $125,000.

Communication, which was temporarily stopped when telephone lines were burned down, was resumed with the erection of emergency lines. All power lines were Warren C. Curnutt, the only casualty.

NEW EVIDENCE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN UNCOVERED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 28.—(UP)—Every phase of the mysterious disappearance of Aimee Semple McPherson, red-haired evangelist of Los Angeles, will be revealed at the impeachment trial of Judge Carlos S. Hardy beginning here a week from next Monday, Assemblyman Clare Woolwine told the United Press today.

"I am certain I have obtained the true story of her kidnaping," Woolwine said, but refused to reveal whether it confirms Mrs. McPherson's version of being kidnaped from a California beach.

Woolwine's reply to all questions concerning details of his newly-found evidence was that it would come out at the trial of Judge Hardy, who is facing charges of having accepted a $2500 check from Mrs. McPherson while he was on the Los Angeles bench. He will stand trial before the state senate. Woolwine is a member of the board of managers who will prosecute Hardy.

Woolwine, when he gave out the statement about solution of the kidnaping, had just returned from questioning Asa Keyes, Los Angeles district attorney who investigated Mrs. McPherson's disappearance.

Keyes is under sentence after being convicted of accepting a bribe to dismiss charges in the Julian Petroleum company case.

ILLINOIS TOWN DIVIDED OVER SLAYING OF WOMAN BY POLICE

State Government May Take Probe from Hands Of County Officials

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 28.—(UP)—After a scathing denunciation of the killing of Mrs. Lillian De King in Aurora by dry raiders, wets in the lower house of the state assembly today predicted the state prohibition law would be wiped off the statute books.

The predictions came after wets and drys had staged a spectacular battle of oratory in the lower house and the wets had forced consideration of a bill that repeals the state dry act.

AURORA, Ill., March 28.—(UP)—The disputed right of Kane county dry raiders to kill a mother and club a father in the presence of the parents' 12-year-old son promised today to invoke an inquiry by the state government of Illinois.

The controversy growing out of the incident at the Joseph De King home Monday night when one group of deputies drank wine with De King while another deputy came up from behind to bash him over the head with a shotgun stock and then kill his wife with a discharge from the same weapon, appeared to have split the community into two hostile camps.

One side, headed by state's attorney George D. Carberry, insisted that the shooting and clubbing by Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith was justified as an act of self defense.

The other side, led by Attorney Robert A. Milroy and Albert J. Kelley for the survivors in the De King family, demanded that the law enforcement agencies of the county abdicate in favor of state officials who can determine without prejudice whether the shooting of Mrs. De King was murder or justifiable homicide.

State's Attorney Carberry met the demands of his opponents with a promise to give the state attorney general an opportunity to come into the case by offering to turn the inquiry over to him "so that the people will not think I am prejudiced or suppressing evidence."

Passengers On Ocean Liners Bring Disease

Twenty Dead, Many Dying, Hundreds Are Ill With Spinal Meningitis

MAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(UP)—With more than a score dead, others dying and hundreds under observation, fear was expressed today that ocean liners from the Orient might carry an epidemic of spinal meningitis and influenza into the United States.

In various Pacific ports, 1,254 persons, all steerage passengers, were held in quarantine. More than 200 persons, recent arrivals from the far east, are ill.

The Dollar liner President Pierce, which brought Henry L. Stimson, the new secretary of state, from Manila a week ago, was the scene of the most serious phase of the epidemic.

While the ship was enroute from Manila, the bodies of 11 foreigners, mostly Filipinos, were lowered into the Pacific, victims of spinal meningitis and influenza. Three hundred and eleven other passengers of the President Pierce, are in quarantine.

At Seattle the President Jackson had 338 quarantined passengers aboard, nine from the same ship were in Seattle hospitals.

British Columbian authorities at Vancouver reported 296 passengers of the Empress of Russia, Canadian Pacific liner, were detained, after two deaths had occurred on that ship.

A fourth ship, the President Madison, arrived in Seattle from the Orient, with sickness aboard. The 320 passengers on the ship were detained at Diamond Point barracks.

ZEPPELIN RETURNS FROM JERUSALEM

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, March 28.—(UP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin ended its 5000-mile trip to Palestine and return here today.

The dirigible landed at 9:45 a.m. and carried a crew of 40 men and 25 passengers, left Friedrichshafen shortly after midnight Sunday.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, who piloted the Graf Zeppelin on his trip to America and return last year, was in command. The dirigible followed a winding route from France, W. Lamont is going to Venice. William Long will remain in Paris. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the German delegation, with his son and daughter, will spend the holiday in France. The Japanese delegate is going to Constantinople and some of the British will return to England for Easter.

State To Receive $1,000,000 From Doheny Jr. Estate

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(UP)—The state will receive more than $1,000,000 from the estate of the late E. L. Doheny Jr., son of the oil millionaire, Irwin Werner, chief counsel for the state inheritance tax bureau, estimated today. Werner said the Doheny estate was valued between 12 and 15 million dollars.

Young Doheny was shot to death by his private secretary.

Transamerica To Withdraw From General Market

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(UP)—Gradual withdrawal of Transamerica corporation from investment in general stock market issues was announced here today by A. P. Giannini upon his return from the east.

The announcement was in answer to questions as to the plans of the Transamerica corporation, now that it has affiliated with Blair & Company.

"Transamerica is a holding company and in the future its investments will be devoted to holdings in the stock of financial institutions," Giannini said.

"There will be a gradual withdrawal from investment in general stock market issues."

Blows His 2 Daughters, Self To Bits

MT. ANGEL, Ore., March 28.—(UP)—Placing his two small daughters on his lap, one on each knee, Charles Setter, a farmer, lighted a fuse to seven sticks of dynamite he paced beneath the chair and waited until all three were blown to kingdom come, this morning.

The bodies were blown to bits and the farmhouse wrecked.

The ghastly deed was the outcome of a quarrel between Setter and his wife, who had gone to the home of relatives.

FLOOD DANGER AT BISMARCK PASSES TODAY

BISMARCK, N. D., March 28.—(UP)—Danger of serious floods in this region of North Dakota was believed past today when a huge ice-jam which for the last three days blocked the Missouri river started to break up.

While bombing planes and dynamite crews laid plans to attack the mountainous ice gorge at Huff, 20 miles south of here, the river, aided by a warm sun, began to work out its own problem in opening up a channel.

O. W. Roberts, head of the weather bureau reported today that the water had fallen from its crest of 15 feet to 13 feet during the past 24 hours and was only slightly above flood stage.

Bombing and dynamite operations would be suspended, he said, if the river continued to fall.

Parts of Bismarck and Mandan still were under several feet of water, however, as was a large stretch of agricultural territory between here and Huff. It was believed that the water would drain off soon and permit resumption of traffic between the two cities.

The "Big Muddy" went out of its banks late Tuesday after ice jams at Independence and Sanish gave away and loosed their burden of water and ice into the valley below.

Advertising Heads Of State Dailies Plan Organization

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(UP)—Advertising managers of dailies in the northern part of the state will meet here tomorrow night for the purpose of organizing the Advertising Managers Association of Northern California.

The meeting will be presided over by Walter A. Yarwood, San Francisco, bureau manager for the California Newspaper Publishers' association.

The new organization will be under the auspices of the state association. The initial session will be held in the Sharon building.

A large attendance of representatives of the leading dailies in the northern part of the state has been assured by mail acceptances, according to Yarwood.

MARTIN JENSEN IS NEAR NEW RECORD

ROOSEVELT FIELD, New York, March 28.—(UP)—Martin Jensen, who wrote a chapter in aviation history when he flew from Oakland, Calif., to Hawaii, at 3:30 p. m. today had but three hours more to go to establish a new record for solo endurance flying.

After 33 hours in the air Jensen threw over a message written on a piece of cardboard which said the machine was functioning properly, but that the air was extremely bumpy.

Apparently Jensen's gas supply was nearing exhaustion, for at 4:05 p. m. he dropped a note which read:

"Will land at 6 or before."

SAYS GRIMES CASE TRIED BY PAPERS

Judge Wood Orders State To Prove Statement That Witnesses Intimidated

JACOBSON ON STAND

Denies He Paid Out Money To Get Affidavit That He Was Frameup Victim

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(UP)—Prosecution charges to newspapers that witnesses had been intimidated today led Superior Judge Walton Wood to order testimony to support these contentions to be introduced at the trial of eight persons charged with causing the arrest of City Councilman Carl I. Jacobson.

Judge Wood's ruling was made after defense counsel objected bitterly to the state "trying the case in the newspapers."

"Every newspaper in the city is quoting the district attorney's office as having said its witnesses were tampered with," Attorney John Cooper told the court.

"I resent that. I demand that the district attorney's office make these charges in court. I suspect they merely are seeking publicity, but the insinuation attacks the integrity of every man connected with the defense."

Cooper said he had made a transcript of the proceedings and had mailed it to the state bar association asking that an attempt be made to stop the trial of criminal cases in the papers.

Judge Wood ordered the state to produce evidence of any tampering and the district attorney's office said it would place Mrs. Fern Carlin, a witness, on the stand to prove the contention.

Jacobson occupied the stand during the morning session and again was forced to face a bitter cross examination. He denied that he had attempted at any time to "fix" the morals charge placed against him after he was arrested in the home of Mrs. Callie Grimes.

Jacobson was taken into custody on a morals count two years ago. The state accuses Mrs. Grimes, five police officers, an underworld leader and a politician of having plotted the action so that Jacobson could be forced to abandon a vice campaign.

While he was on the stand the councilman emphatically denied defense charges that he paid money to Mrs. Grimes to get her to make an affidavit stating that he had been "framed." The affidavit was the basis for the indictments against the present defendants.

"Didn't you meet Mrs. Grimes in October 1923 near the Evergreen cemetery and offer her $2000 for that affidavit?" he was asked.

"Certainly not," Jacobson answered heatedly.

Just before the noon recess Mrs. C. W. Brown, of Montrose, a juror, collapsed and had to be taken from the box.

IDENTITY OF GEM ROBBERS MYSTERY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(UP)—Identity of the three men who perpetrated San Francisco's greatest jewel robbery Tuesday was still a mystery today.

Detectives heading the investigation reiterated their belief that the robbers were gem thieves from New York and had come to this city for the specific purpose of robbing Harry Arnols, Brooklyn, N. Y. jewelry salesman.

Arnols was robbed of $400,000 worth of unset diamonds as he was leaving a building in the downtown section of the city.

Senator Flint's Will Filed Today

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(UP)—The will of the late Frank Flint, former United States senator, listing his estate as "more than $10,000," was on file in probate court today.

The widow, Mrs. Katherine Flint, will receive one-half of the estate under the provisions of the document while the other half will be divided between the families of his two children.

Nazarene District Assembly To Be Held In Santa Ana

400 DELEGATES ARE EXPECTED AT JUNE EVENT

Indications that Santa Ana is becoming a center of the Southern California branches of the Nazarene church is the announcement by the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Santa Ana church, that the Southern California district assembly and the annual district camp meeting will be held here this year.

Santa Ana was selected for the conference this year through the influence of the Santa Ana pastor and an invitation extended by George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, it was stated.

The assembly is scheduled to open its sessions June 12 and continue through June 16. No meeting place has been selected as yet because of the difficulty in securing a place large enough to accommodate the crowds expected. It was announced that at least 400 delegates from Nazarene churches in Southern California would be in attendance.

The Rev. R. T. Williams, of Dallas, Tex., will be the presiding officer, while the Rev. John W. Goodman will be the representative of Pasadena college. The Rev. J. T. Little, district superintendent, will be active at the meetings.

The work of each Sunday school and pastor will be reported and the annual election held. The more important offices to be filled are those of district superintendent and the Pasadena college trustees.

Breaking an unwritten law of 20 years' standing, the annual district camp meeting of Nazarene churches will not be held in Pasadena, but in Santa Ana this year. The Walnut Grove auto camp has been leased and the sessions will be held there in a tent large enough to accommodate 1500 persons. The meeting will be held from July 12 to July 21, inclusive. The grounds are located on North Main street, about half way between Santa Ana and Orange. The committee in charge declared that Santa Ana had been selected because of its ideal weather conditions in the summer months and its desirable location.

The Rev. W. G. Sherman, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, in Chicago, has been engaged for the revival campaign.

"We hope to have 500 persons tenting on the grounds during the camp meeting," declared J. T. Little, district superintendent, today.

A possibility of the North Main street property becoming the permanent meeting place was pointed out. Purchase of the site is under consideration, it was said.

JUST A GREAT BIG BABY

Agnes McKinstry is just a great big baby doll here and her companion, Helen Stein, isn't so much older. But both of them are dolls, at that, we'd say. The Misses McKinstry and Stein are just helping observe Rube day at Poly high.

AND FOUR MORE RUBES

Harvey Greenleaf, Floyd Barker, Elwood Lindley and Ernest Cardwell, reading from left to right, are just another quartet of rubes who roamed the halls of learning at Santa Ana high school today. Cardwell's makeup has us guessing. Are those boots the latest in milady's fashion?

THEY DON'T COME TO TOWN OFTEN, BUT WHEN THEY DO THESE HICKS MAKE WHOOPEE

"Hey, Rubel" And there weren't many flat tires at the annual Hick event held in the Santa Ana high school today. Crowds of students in outlandish attire frolicked about the campus and tormented the ultra-dignified faculty as observance of Rube day got underway.

Impersonations of the most poverty stricken stations of life were to be seen. Colorful garments, giving evidence of having been resurrected from some mid-Victorian era of fashion were of glaring interest.

Boys, members of the masculine species who aspire to the nobility of flapperhood, were strolling stickily with red and green suckers in blissful contentment, and the "Bad Boy" of yesterday was revived in mischievous naughtiness for the day.

Characters from all ages and all races were the targets of hilarious amusement and rubes who were apparently making their first appearance in an educational institution, simmered in sackcloth clothing when spoken to.

The event was to culminate in an assembly program for the entire student body at 2:30 this afternoon. Lynn Crawford, faculty advisor for the student presentations, assisted by Tommy Cone, commissioner of athletics, and John Keeler, student body president, were to be in charge of the affair.

A play, entitled "Androcles and The Lion" by Bernard Shaw, was to be featured by members of Ernest Crozier Phillips' drama class. The cast included Marion Parsons, as Megara; Newell Vandermaast, as Androcles; and David Hill, as the lion.

Benjo solo selections were to be given by Harper Goff, who also was to play duet numbers with Garth Benjamin.

Members of the board of control and the faculty were to act as judges at the Rube review, held during the as-his former ment, stating that his hopes had been realized and that he was regaining health in San Quentin through regular exercise, including baseball and handball.

Brown was suffering from the effects of his war experiences, but his physical troubles are being repaired in San Quentin, he wrote.

REBEL ATTACK ON MAZATLAN HUGE FAILURE

without word from General Francisco Manzo, commander of the west coast, who last reported he was leaving Mazatlan, Sinaloa, to advance on Mexico City through Guadalajara.

Federal dispatches reported Manzo in full retreat north.

The proposed insurgent attack on Naco, Sonora, promised for more than a week, appeared no nearer materialization.

Nothing was seen or heard of a band of federals said to be en route from San Luis, Sonora, to attack the rebel garrison here.

WAR ACE REGAINING HEALTH IN PRISON

"Captain" H. K. Brown, said to be a former British war ace, guessed right. He predicted that he would be happy if Superior Judge H. G. Ames only would send him to San Quentin. The court granted his wish and sentenced him to the penitentiary after he had pleaded guilty on a bad check charge.

Today Milburn Harvey, attorney for Brown, received a letter from

SCOUT CAMPS WILL BE OPEN NEXT WEEK

Two Boy Scout spring vacation camps will be in operation next week during the Easter vacation period, it was announced today by George G. Walker, Boy Scout executive, here.

Opening Monday and closing Wednesday, the leadership camp for older boys and assistant scout-masters will be held on the upper government camp grounds in Trabuco canyon.

A program, with outside speakers, is being arranged and the vacationists will take up camp craft, cooking, nature study, patrol organization, planning and conducting patrol hikes and other Scout activities.

A camp for all Boy Scouts interested will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, near Laguna Beach. It will be necessary for each Scout to take into camp with him, food sufficient to last for the period, as supplies will not be available at the camp.

for Easter

The "Better Half"...

... of course dear wife will expect a cute little "surprise" on Easter morning. May we suggest that you give her what she really wants ... a pretty little piece of china that she will love to use every day in the year. Or a darling colored crystal dish ... a sparkling mirror to hang in the hall ... a bridge lamp for the living room (and you can use this yourself). Too, you might select a subtly beautiful pottery vase or bowl ... a piece of silver to match her set. Select what SHE would select ... at Wiesseman's.

NAME MURPHY, EDWARDS FOR DETROIT MEET

Louis Riehl, of Tustin, prominent member of the American Legion and other patriotic organizations, was elected commander of Jack Fisher post, No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, when members gathered in the Legion hall last night for their semi-monthly meeting.

Other officers elected include Edward L. Struble, of Santa Ana, senior vice commander; Dave R. Day, of Fullerton, junior vice commander, and Frank Wolton, of Santa Ana, member of the state executive committee.

William J. Murphy, state commander, and Harry D. Edwards, state adjutant, were named to represent the Santa Ana post at the national convention, to be held in June, in Detroit.

Delegates to the state convention in San Bernardino in May will be Harry S. Pickard, Edward Struble and Charles Spurrier of Santa Ana; P. C. Brooks, of Tustin, and Dave R. Day, of Fullerton. Their alternates are Harry Kerr, Harold Eyer, Frank Kelly, Harold Rasmussen, Santa Ana, and K. E. Pellegrin, of Anaheim.

Members of the post were reminded of the meeting of the Patriotic committee, to be held April 5 in the Legion hall, when plans will be made for Memorial day.

LA HABRA HELD ON IMMIGRATION COUNT

Accused of bringing three Armenian girls into the United States in violation of the immigration act, Charles N. Inman, of La Habra, was brought before Commissioner Head in Los Angeles yesterday. Bail was set at $2500.

The girls, who are nieces of Mrs. Inman, were adopted by the couple at Ensenada, Mexico, and later brought across the border, immigration officials declare.

The girls fled from Armenia last year and came to Mexico, it is said.

The speaker discussed senate bills now pending which would affect nursing in California.

Special music and an illustrated sermon will be given at services to be held at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Four Square Gospel Lighthouse. It was announced this morning. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Mrs. Vera Brown, and will be on the subject, "Seven Cries From the Cross."

An authorized Christian Science lecture by W. Stuart Booth, C. S. be "The Empty Tomb."

ASK $125.513 AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

W. D. Young, Huntington Beach automobile dealer, and Fred Mulens, car salesman, were made defendants today in two lawsuits in which damages totaling $125,513.84 were asked by William Purdin and D. P. Eldridge, Huntington Beach oil workers.

According to the complaints, Purdin and Eldridge were riding in an automobile driven by Mulens, as agent for Young, when it collided with a telephone pole near the intersection of Delhi and Bristol streets, on March 3.

The impact caused the pole to fall into a ditch, the complaint stated, and the crash resulted in serious injuries to both Purdin and Eldridge, it was said. Purdin is seeking $100,281.92 in damages, while Eldridge asked $25,231.92. Purdin suffered a fractured skull, with concussion and contusion of the brain and other painful injuries, the complaint declared. Eldridge's complaint stated that he received a fractured right pelvic bone, injured right hip, cuts and bruises around the left eye and other injuries.

Purdin claimed in his complaint, filed through his wife, Alma Purdin, that he had been permanently injured. Samuel Rosenthal represents the plaintiffs in both complaints.

B. of Denver, Colo., will be given Post's Spurgeon street theater, here, on Friday, March 29, at 8 p. m., under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Santa Ana. Mr. Booth is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Boy Scout troop No. 34 was organized at Irvine last night with a membership of 15. Carter Clark was elected scoutmaster and Oscar Parmor his assistant. W. F. Parmor was chosen treasurer of the Scout committee, which includes Rensler Baker, chairman; A. L. Trickey, Hurley Sears, T. P. Staples, Bud Mitchell, George Veeh, Ralph Stone and Henry Boosey.

The Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, announced today that his topic for the Easter morning service would be "The Empty Tomb."

Continue Case As Defense Lawyer's Father Succumbs

The case of A. C. Donaho, Newport Beach, charged with the petty theft in connection with the asserted theft of oil well supplies owned by the Pasadena oil company, in Newport Beach, was continued in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning until 10 a. m., April 2.

The continuance was asked because of the death of the father of the defense attorney, Russell Pray, of Long Beach. The elder Pray was killed over the week end in an automobile accident.

Donaho first was arrested on a grand theft charge, the charge later being reduced.

LEGION POST TO HONOR FOCH IN RITES TONIGHT

Special memorial services, in memory of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, and commander-in-chief of the allied armies during the World war, will be held at the regular meeting of Santa Ana post, American Legion, tonight, according to an announcement made today by Franklin G. West, commander.

O. A. Jacobs, first vice commander of the post will have charge of the memorial exercises. Commander West announced today that the post had received instructions, together with other posts of the state, to drape all flags for 30 days in memory of the great military leader.

Special meeting Santa Ana Chapter No. 73, R. A. M., Thursday, March 28, to confer the Royal Arch Degree. Orange Chapter will attend. Dinner 6:30. Visiting Companions welcome. JAMES FARRAGE, H. P. (Adv.)

MAN BELIEVED TO BE ESCAPED CONVICT HELD

Cecil Claude Robbins, 22, chauffeur, residing with his mother at 2215 North Broadway, Santa Ana, was arrested last night by Chief of Police John Stanton, of Tustin, and State Traffic Officers Yoder and Adams and is being held in the county jail as an alleged escaped convict from the Arizona state penitentiary.

Arizona officers were notified of the arrest today. Robbins was arrested after an "escape" circular from the penitentiary had reached officers here and after Robbins is asserted to have gone to the office of the state traffic squad here and applied for a license to operate an automobile.

According to the officers, Robbins was sent to the Arizona prison on a grand theft charge and had served seven months of a from one to five years' sentence when he escaped.

FARM BUREAU OFFICIALS IN STAND ON BILLS

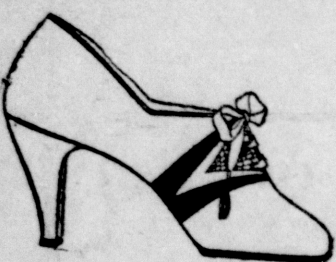

Farm bureau officials of region No. 1, comprising five southern counties under the chairmanship of A. J. Smiley, Santa Ana, and meeting recently at El Centro, took definite position on a number of pieces of proposed legislation affecting agriculture.

Assembly bill No. 818, which would reduce the time limit for redeeming mortgaged property from one year to four months, was opposed. The group endorsed a bill establishing grades and certification for dried fruit, and another bill which would give growers recourse against misrepresentation in seed buying. Two bills which would turn milk inspection over to the health department, taking it from the department of agriculture, were opposed. It was pointed out that producers would have no recourse under the proposed legislation. The organization endorsed a senate bill making it a misdemeanor to knowingly induce a member of a non-profit co-operative marketing organization to break his contract. A bill allowing county horticultural commissioners to mold infected fruit at the point of origin when designed for inter-county shipment was endorsed.

Proposed national legislation which would allow states to establish quarantines when they are not established by the secretary of agriculture, was approved. The measures would provide that such quarantines be based on tests approved by the secretary of agriculture and that if that official announces a similar quarantine or declares a quarantine unnecessary, the state action would be void.

Every Stroke of Fine Paint SAVES YOU MONEY

Every stroke of cheap paint
WASTES YOUR MONEY

WHAT DO YOU want to buy with your paint-money? Beauty and protection. And you want beauty and protection for the longest time possible, because that's the only true economy in painting. No matter what paint you use, the labor cost of doing the job is two or three times the cost of the paint. . . . There is no satisfactory substitute for pure White Lead in paint. Fuller Pure Prepared Paint is made of pure White Lead (for body and elasticity); pure Zinc Oxide (for spreading capacity and hardness); the highest grade of linseed oil. It is the finest ready-mixed paint you can buy. Every cent you pay for it is justified by the lasting beauty and protection it gives your home. . . . Fuller Pure Prepared, the White Lead Paint, costs more per gallon but less in the long run. It covers more surface, gives greater protection, lasts longer, and looks better all the time. Consult a Master Painter—and specify Fuller Pure Prepared. Ask your nearest Fuller dealer listed below, for a Fuller Pure Prepared color card. Write to W. P. Fuller & Co. for the booklet, "YOUR HOME AS OTHERS SEE IT."

THINKS SERVICE CLUBS SHOULD MOLD OPINION

Asserting his belief that service clubs should be the leaders in directing public opinion on matters of political importance to city, county, state and national government, Dr. Ernest Bashor, past president of the Los Angeles Kiwanis club and chairman of the California-Nevada district underprivileged child committee, anticipated in an address before the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, yesterday, the time when service clubs will change their present attitude toward discussion of politics at their meetings.

"When I look around and see men who are leaders in their communities I invariably find them to be members of the service clubs," the speaker said, in concluding discussion of the point that clubs should mold public opinion in matters political or in matters of importance to the community in which they are located.

Proper Direction Needed
"Proper direction of public opinion, and not enforcement laws, is what this country needs," Dr. Bashor said, in emphasis of his declaration against glib leadership in the molding of public opinion.

Discussing the value of service clubs, the speaker pointed to the opportunity presented for the making of close friendships, the opportunity for development of the individual member and the opportunity for public service in a community as full justification for such an organization.

"To me, welfare work is the big thing in Kiwanis," Dr. Bashor said, in stressing a declaration that Kiwanis is rapidly approaching a definite program of welfare work. He expressed the opinion that Kiwanis should leave assistance of crippled children to other agencies better qualified for such work and devote its efforts to helping children who are physically and mentally strong.

He recounted the activity of the Los Angeles club in promoting McKinley school, in Van Nuys, and commented on the wonderful inspiration it is to members of the club to contact boys of the school.

Raised $120,000 Fund
The speaker revealed that the club had been instrumental in raising a fund of approximately $120,000 for removing the school from Gardena and creating an establishment in Van Nuys better equipped for directing strong boys in lines that will make them competent to take their respective places in the world when they attain their majority.

Dr. Bashor suggested that the Santa Ana club select some definite objective of a type where members could see physical evidence of the results of their labor and their aid.

Verne W. Whitson, past president of the Santa Ana club, presided as program chairman. Vocal selections by Leslie Steffenson, son of Elmer Steffenson, club member, offered the special musical feature. The singer was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Headaches gone—
Blood pressure
normal

If you can't exert yourself without being short of breath, if your head pains, if you can't even lie down with comfort—then life hardly seems worth while. That is how things appeared to a woman who wrote us about her trouble with high blood pressure. She took Agmel. She later says: "My blood pressure is normal. No more headaches. I can now sleep. And actually feel like smiling." Letters like this are received every day.

What is Agmel? A great natural health food. The sap or milk of the Mexican Agave plant concentrated by removing excess water. Nothing added. Extraordinarily rich in important minerals and other vital elements necessary for the proper adjustment and functioning of the body. A vital tonic. Not a medicine. Non-alcoholic. Thousands praise Agmel. If you have any of the following symptoms, investigate Agmel today: headaches, backaches, glycosuria, and frequent necessity to get up at night, etc. Ask your druggist about Agmel. Or write direct to The Agmel Corporation, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Western Baptist Executive Board Will Meet Here

The executive board of the Western Baptist Association of Southern California is to hold a fellowship meeting in Santa Ana in the Second Baptist church (colored) on Thursday, April 4. Services will be held both afternoon and evening on that date, according to the Rev. W. H. McGriff, pastor.

The program will commence at 2 p. m., with a special session for the women. At 5 o'clock supper will be served by the hostess church and services will be in charge of the Moderator at 7:30 p. m. Dr. W. D. Carter, pastor of the Friendship Baptist church, of Pasadena, and moderator of the Western Baptist association, will preside.

40 BUFF PIGEONS REPORTED STOLEN

Forty buff colored pigeons, owned by Henry Suter, route No. 2, were stolen from their roosts by four men, last night, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office.

A daughter of Suter reported to officers that at 9:40 p. m., she saw a man standing outside the house and that he signalled when he saw her. Three other men immediately came out of the pigeon house with sacks in their arms, she said. She gave the alarm, but the quartet made its escape in an automobile.

M. E. CHURCH TO HOLD SERVICE OF MEDITATION

In keeping with the spirit of the day, Good Friday, a service of meditation will be held tomorrow afternoon in the new chapel of the First Methodist church. The service will begin at 12 o'clock noon and continue until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

From 12 to 12:30, the Rev. George Wiltzie will conduct a service and the subject will be "The Closing of Christ's Public Career." From 12:30 to 1 o'clock those present shall be led to think of the significance of that solemn silence, and from 1 to 1:30 the Rev. O. Scott McFarland will lead the thought on the significance of the "Old Covenant" and "The Night Before the Cross."

From 1:30 to 2 o'clock, the subject for meditation will be "The Cross and the New Covenant" and from 2 to 2:30, Dr. E. M. Mills will speak on "Meditations for Our Present Days." The closing period will be from 2:30 to 3 o'clock, when the Rev. Mr. Wiltzie will speak on a spiritual citizenship, "The Pledge of Easter."

These services will be open to all those desiring to attend and persons may come at different intervals to suit their own convenience.

SAN DIEGO GIRLS SOUGHT IN COUNTY

Orange county police are assisting San Diego officers in locating two girls, runaways from home, who are believed to be the same girls who featured in an automobile accident here Sunday and who received medical attention at the county hospital.

The girls sought are Ida Worlitz, 16, and Elizabeth Canning, 13. The girls in the automobile accident, which took place at Taft avenue and Olive road, gave the names of Bonnie Delane and Dorothy Owens.

Trial Of Liquor Sale Case Opens

Francisco Barron, Santa Ana, was on trial today before Superior Judge James L. Allen on a charge of selling liquor. He was arrested recently in the liquor raids staged by District Attorney Z. B. West Jr. and Sheriff Sam Jernigan.

Barron elected to be tried by a jury. Deputy District Attorney S. P. Kaufman and Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins appeared for the people in today's hearing, while Barron was represented by N. Meyer, Santa Ana attorney.

LENT SERMONS ARE CONCLUDED BY REV. HATTER

"Behold the Man." Thus did Pilate, more than 1900 years ago, bring suddenly before the howling mob of Jerusalem, the scourged Christ, hoping that the mob would have mercy. But there was no mercy in that hand of ravenous wolves, howling for the blood of an innocent man," declared the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, in his closing Lenten mid-week sermon last night.

"Picture that mob. Analyze the faces in it. There one alive with hate, there one alive with lust for blood, there one watching the scene indifferently, there one with pity in his eyes. As they look upon the Man Pilate brings into their midst, their growls flare into the shout, 'Away with him; crucify him.' Backed by the priests, the guards of the priests' palace and hangers-on, the mob frantically howls for the death of this man, who threatens to upset things in Jerusalem.

"Why the hurry? It was the eve of the Feast of the Passover. A Jewish law called for everything to be ready for the feast and the deed of violence must be accomplished before sundown. Was it not singular that it was the church that wanted Christ crucified? The priests of the temple, the merchants, the scholars demanded it.

"When the victim was nailed to the cross and it stood upon the hill of the skull, was the mob satisfied? It was not. Up and down in front of their victim, they prowled like wild beasts, mocking at Christ. Then came the darkness. They were afraid and fled into the city. The deed was done, the man who threatened to overthrow the power of the priests was dead. The mob was at home and afraid.

"What about the mobs today? Would they not do just as that mob did so many centuries ago? Are we one of the mobs?"

CHICKEN SUSPECT PLACED IN JAIL

Suspected in petty theft in connection with chicken stealing, Modesto Guzman, 29, Santa Ana, was arrested at 2:20 a. m., today, at Third and Franklin streets by Officers Flower and Murray and is being held in the county jail.

Officers reported they found a lone chicken in the back of the Guzman machine, which was being operated without a license and without a registration certificate, officers said.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Mateer's Drug Store.—Adv.

Easter Program To Be Presented In Rankin Store

An interesting service is to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning on the main floor of the Rankin Dry Goods store, to which the public is invited. The service will be significant of Easter and the program, as arranged, will be as follows:

Hymn, "In The Cross of Christ I Glory"; Invocation, by Dr. George A. Warner; girls' chorus, "Hark, I Hear a Strain of Music"; solo, by Cecil Fross Willis; brief address by Dr. Warner; Alleluia Chorus, with Dorothy Hurd, Mrs. Willis, J. H. Hughes and Robert Brown as the featured quartet, and a hymn, "Christ The Lord Has Risen."

Mrs. C. E. Hurd will direct the singing. Mrs. Clara Brucke assisted in arranging the program.

WHITSON HOUSE FIRST IN S. A. HEATED BY GAS

Old days of chopping wood and shoveling coal were discarded in Santa Ana after a local man had staged a lone revolution in his home.

An experiment which was considered out of the ordinary in the year 1913 was conducted at the suggestion of Dr. L. L. Whitson by S. C. Champion, who was at that time head of the Southern Counties Gas company, and resulted in the first house in this city being heated by gas.

Dr. Whitson, whose home was heated by an old fashioned drum heater, which had a lead pipe of hot air into the seven rooms of the house, grew impatient one day with the wood and coal furnace. He considered the possibility of placing a gas ring in the fire box of his old furnace and attaching a meter onto it.

Champion became interested in the project and agreed to carry out the experiment if the dentist would keep a calendar for comparison of the expenses of gas and coal heating. This was done.

"We found gas heating to be no more expensive than keeping the house warm by burning wood and coal," Dr. Whitson said, "and I imagine heating by gas is less expensive now."

"We still are using the same old furnace with the gas ring attachment," he added, "and have found it to be a success."

KITS HERE NOW FOR BUILDING MODEL PLANES

Here's an announcement that will be real news to a lot of the boys in the Junior Aviation club of Santa Ana, sponsored by the 20-30 club and The Register. Scores of boys are now building model planes, but some of them, perhaps, have not heard that the special kits containing materials needed in making the best model planes, have arrived at Henry's Cycle shop, 427 West Fourth street.

The kits are there and boys are beginning to come in and take them away, according to Henry. But he thought that many of the boys who were asking for them before they arrived, ought to be told about them now that they are here.

Tomorrow The Register and 20-30 club will describe for you an improvement on the Champion-ship Tractor, the model that was described in Monday's article. This improvement will make the ship perform even better than it did for its designer. Wait and see what it is. The material needed for this improvement is contained in the 85-cent kit at Henry's Cycle shop.

Some boys may have sent back to Detroit for this kit, but if they haven't they can get it sooner by going down to see Henry. Boys who have just joined the club and are building earlier models will find that Henry has the proper kits, too.

DECIDE PROPERTY WAS GIVEN WOMAN

Superior Judge H. G. Ames today had decided that the property alleged to have been fraudulently taken by Cheryle Johnson from the home of the late C. R. Jorgensen, Newport road, had been given to her by the deceased. E. R. Majors, special administrator of the Jorgensen estate, was seeking judgment yesterday for return of the property or $2400.

After the testimony of witnesses had been heard, the court decided that the defendant was entitled to retain the property, which consisted chiefly of household furnishings.

Majors was represented by Rutan and Mize, Santa Ana attorneys, while Cheryle Johnson was represented by Scarborough, Forry and Reinhaus, also of Santa Ana.

Laguna Beach May Secure U.S.C. Marine Observatory

BUILDING FOR 500 STUDENTS IS PROJECTED

LAGUNA BEACH, March 28.—Hope of establishing the marine biological observatory branch of the University of Southern California near Laguna Beach was revived this week, when it became known that Joseph S. and Marie Thurston have been conducting negotiations with the university authorities to locate the observatory in the mouth of Aliso canyon, about three miles south of the city.

The project came before the chamber of commerce several weeks ago and a committee was appointed to get in touch with the school authorities and learn what conditions must be met in order to secure the school. The advantages of the south coast have appealed strongly to the college, according to Mr. Thurston, who points out that by locating it here it may be conducted as an all-year institution. Plans call for making it the largest and best equipped of any in the United States, it is asserted.

The plans as outlined indicate that the observatory would be built to accommodate 500 students. The abundant marine life along this coast and the accessibility are strong factors in determining its location, it is reported. That such an institution would bring many eastern students and instructors is a point made in connection with it, and also that many families would undoubtedly move to this city as permanent residents in addition to those remaining for several weeks or months in connection with the school.

It is said by Mr. Thurston that negotiations have narrowed down to one specific piece of land

Beach Band In Program On Friday

LAGUNA BEACH, March 28.—The program for the benefit entertainment for the Laguna Beach band has been arranged by Mrs. Roy W. Peacock for Friday night, when the juvenile musicians will entertain the public. It is to be given in the grammar school auditorium.

The program as submitted consists of 14 numbers, most of them musical.

Though the band has been in existence for several years, it has had a struggle to keep itself financially intact. Recently arrangements were made whereby James E. Son, director, was made a part of the school organization and in this way the burden of raising his salary was shifted. However, there are other expenses to be met, and the purpose of the benefit is to raise funds to purchase music.

ENTERTAINERS ON BEACH CITY CLUB PROGRAM

NEWPORT BEACH, March 28.—The regular meeting of the Exchange club was held in the Legion hall yesterday noon. The entertainment was in charge of Harry Tudor, who presented musicals taking part in the Collegiate week. The biggest hit was "Come Conrad in his conception of a dance hall 'Johnny'."

Volunteers with cars were found to take the Boy Scouts to Laguna for a week end camp.

The golf tournament between Newport Beach and Santa Ana clubs will be played on the Country club course the first Thursday in April, according to the golf committee.

J. A. Grant, Paul Ellsworth and Steve Smith were appointed as a committee to arrange a ladies' night.

George Macleod reported that the school bill had passed the senate and had had its first reading in the assembly and that he had been told by Leroy Anderson that everything was favorable to its adoption.

J. A. Grant requested that the club appoint a committee to assist in the community sunrise service being sponsored by the two Methodist churches in the city.

Pupils Of Tustin High Pay Tribute To Rudolph Drews

TUSTIN, March 28.—Tustin high school students yesterday paid their final tribute to Rudolph Drews, member of the Senior class, who was fatally wounded while hunting last Sunday. At 10 o'clock all students stood with bowed heads for one minute. During the day the flag in the building was lowered to half mast. One hundred and twenty-five students, comprising the senior class, and other school friends attended the funeral.

and hopes are entertained by the pioneer Lagunian that the school may be induced to decide to build here.

BREA C. OF C. SEEKING NEW OFFICE ROOMS

BREA, March 28.—That the Brea Chamber of Commerce must seek new offices was revealed by President H. M. Massey at the luncheon meeting held in the Olson-Dyer cafe here yesterday noon.

Since its organization in May of last year, the office has been conducted in the E. H. Peterkin building jointly with the Orange County Transfer company and without any charge for rent. Peterkin yesterday leased the store room for a period of five years and is to give possession April 1.

At a meeting of the board of directors, held in the chamber office yesterday morning, consideration was given to an upstairs room in the Peterkin building and also to the possibility of obtaining quarters in the city hall, where, it was learned, one office might be had. A meeting between city councilmen and representatives of the chamber if scheduled. Definite decision on a location must be made between now and Monday morning.

Frank Massey, newly elected president of the city planning commission, announced at the luncheon meeting that the commission had its eye on the city hall office in question, but that they would abdicate to the chamber of commerce if the office could be had.

At this meeting an appeal was made by Dr. Glenn Curtis that the proper influence be brought to bear upon the La Habra city council in the matter of assistance in conducting the Brea mothers' educational center. It was pointed out by Dr. Curtis that half the babies being cared for at the center are from the city of La Habra and that on one or more occasions an appeal had been made to the city trustees of La Habra for aid. Dr. Curtis declared it was not so much financial aid that was needed, perhaps, as actual help in the checking, weighing, measuring and handling of these babies, and that inasmuch as La Habra babies are being benefitted by the center, some assistance should be expected from that quarter.

The center is being sponsored here by the American Legion and auxiliary, the city council of Brea, the Brea Woman's club and the Lions. Miss Ethel Andrea, a pediatrician of Los Angeles, a nurse from the county health department, and Mrs. Leora Cuming, a trained nurse, representing the Brea auxiliary, attend the clinics, which are held the first and third Thursday of each month.

Forrest Hurst, who represents the Lions club on a committee associated with the chamber of commerce to interview the La Habra councilmen in an attempt to enlist the needed assistance.

Announcement was made of Brea-Olinda day for the Mission play at San Gabriel, the day having been set for April 10, and plans are underway for a large delegation of members and others interested to attend either the afternoon or evening performance on that date.

Garden Club Arranges Pasadena Tour

LAGUNA BEACH, March 28.—Arrangements are being made by the Garden club to go to Pasadena April 5, when a tour of some of the leading gardens of that city will be visited. Miss Florence Voch, landscape artist, to personally conduct the tour. Miss Voch is a sister of Mrs. N. E. West, whose invitation has resulted in the plans for the excursion.

Care is being provided by members for those who have no transportation.

OFFICERS FOR BEACH THEATER GROUP ELECTED

NEWPORT BEACH, March 28.—At a meeting held this week at the Civic league headquarters, a permanent organization was established to co-ordinate community efforts along theatrical lines.

Twelve directors, one from each of the several social subdivisions of Newport Beach, were elected. Those chosen are J. A. Gant, Frank Smith, Charles Way, A. J. Twist, Mark Johnson, Mrs. R. F. Brooks, Mrs. Florence Summers, Mrs. J. A. Gant, Mrs. Sara Bowman, Roy Updike and Horace Ensign.

Mrs. J. A. Garfield was chosen president; Mrs. Frank Smith, secretary, and J. A. Gant, treasurer.

PASTOR ADDRESSES FULLERTON GROUP

FULLERTON, March 28.—The Rev. George Tinsley, pastor of the Christian church, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Fullerton Rotary club at noon yesterday at McFarland's cafe.

The Rev. Mr. Tinsley, who is a local Rotarian, expressed the appreciation of the ministerial association for the co-operative spirit of the local service clubs in arranging a special series of Easter programs in which local pastors were the speakers.

A musical program was enjoyed which included several numbers by a quartet composed of Mrs. George Tinsley, Mrs. J. B. Horner, William H. Dowling and Ralph Bloom, with Miss Gladys Peck as accompanist. Bloom led the club in the singing of two hymns.

GOES TO PHOENIX
SAN CLEMENTE, March 28.—Oscar Easley, San Clemente contractor, left last night for Phoenix for a two-week rest period. He was accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Easley and Bill Easley.

Commission On Planning Is Formed

BREA, March 28.—Organization of the Brea city planning commission was completed yesterday afternoon in the chamber of commerce office. The meeting was attended by E. H. Peterkin, Frank Mason, J. R. Collins, H. M. Massey and Dr. Glenn Curtis and passed in Mason being elected president for the ensuing year, with A. O. Andrew, the sixth member, named as secretary.

Other members who will work in conjunction with this citizens' committee will be City Attorney Albert Launer, Mayor J. A. Luezing and City Engineer George Bates.

According to Mason, the commission will immediately procure copies of the senate bill of 1927 regulating the power and setting forth the duties of a planning commission. These will be studied thoroughly before a program of the commission will be outlined.

SERVICE HELD IN METHODIST CHURCH

YORBA LINDA, March 28.—As a part of the Easter program, a consecration service was held Wednesday evening in the Methodist Episcopal church.

The communion service will be held in the church Friday evening, following which the probationers will take their final examinations. On Easter morning the probationers will receive their certificates of membership. Members of the class are Mrs. Ernest Smothers, Miss Doris Smothers, the Misses Capitola, Josephine and Mary Neely, Whit Cromwell, Dorcas May, Roy Martin, Lucille Hudson and Elizabeth Hamner.

The Rev. N. L. Hudson will preach Sunday morning on "Immortality." There will be special music by the choir and Miss Margaret Riffle will sing a solo.

Rites For Garden Grove Woman Will Be Held Saturday

GARDEN GROVE, March 28.—Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church for Mrs. Sarah Virginia Richmond, 77, who died here yesterday afternoon. The services will be conducted by the Rev. J. M. Ocheltree, pastor of the church, and interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Richmond is survived by her husband, the Rev. Josiah M. Richmond, a retired pastor of the Methodist church. The family came to Garden Grove about nine years ago. One sister, Mrs. Ada Sanders, of Atkinson, Neb., also survives her.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of C. W. Coffey, funeral director, of Orange.

EGGS OF BIRDS EXHIBITED IN ORANGE HIGH

ORANGE, March 28.—Harold Barnes, Orange union high school student, has an interesting collection of bird's eggs on exhibition in the lower hall of the main high school building. The collection includes 39 classified varieties and two unidentified varieties.

The exhibit includes tiny humming bird eggs to the seagulls' eggs. Those nearest in size and appearance to the hen's eggs are the eggs of the owl which almost exactly resemble those of a small bantam.

Perhaps the prettiest bird eggs in the collection are those of the linnet and the gnat-catcher, both varieties are a lovely shade of blue delicately spotted with brown.

The seagulls' eggs are as white as sea foam.

Oddest of the oval shells are the eggs of the kiddeer, which taper down to a narrow point from a wide bulging top. They are thickly spotted at the large end.

The hawk and buzzard eggs are about the size of chicken eggs and are very spotted. Those of the raven are a pale green as are those of the crow. The tiny pink eggs shown are those of the tree wren, those of a deeper pink, the cactus wren.

A number of bird's nests are included in the exhibit. Among the most interesting of these is an oriole nest made entirely of palm fiber and a bush tit's nest, which is long and pouch shaped. Unusual eggs are the white canary's.

The collection was placed on exhibition, according to Mrs. Margaret Scott, school librarian, to awaken an interest in birds at the time of year when Easter and eggs are in the thoughts of many and when the birds are engaged in their usual springtime nest building.

ORANGE STUDENTS TO VISIT LIBRARY

ORANGE, March 27.—A trip to the Huntington library at San Marino has been arranged for a group of Orange union high school students Saturday. Teachers who will go include Mrs. Margaret Scott, Miss Fern Sumner, Miss Nita Walton, Miss Ethel Walker and Miss Hannah Neeser. Among the parents planning to go are Mrs. Henry Campbell and Mrs. E. L. Haynes.

Students privileged to go are Catherine Akers, Alfreda Arnold, Juanita Bierbower, Vernell Butler, Beryl Campbell, Eunice Douglas, Clara Frazier, Dorothy Frerking and Shirley Haynes.

Principal A. Haven Smith are planning to accompany the group.

South Gate Minister Is Called

PLACENTIA, March 28.—The Rev. D. J. Brigham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at South Gate, has been called to the Placentia Presbyterian church, it was announced today by church officers. The Rev. Mr. Brigham will assume his duties here next month.

SEA PROGRAM PRESENTED AT CLUB SESSION

NEWPORT BEACH, March 28.—The sea and the many things that are connected with it was the theme used throughout the program presented at the recent meeting of the Ebell club. The decorations, carried out by Mrs. George Coleman, created an appropriate atmosphere for the event.

Paintings of the sea by George Coleman were hung and fish-net were fastened on the walls. Sea shells of many varieties, stones found on the beach, feathery seaweed and beach primroses helped to complete a picture of a lovely strip of sea shore.

Sea foods served in shells furnished the main course of the luncheon.

J. H. Summers related many of his experiences on the briny deep, and sang a number of sea songs, accompanied by Mrs. Summers. The superstitions of sailors was stressed in his talk.

Mrs. F. H. Shackelford read some of the sea poems of John Massfield. Mrs. H. Cardozo Sloan contributed a group of piano numbers.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. George Coleman, Mrs. F. C. Brookings, Mrs. F. H. Shackelford and Mrs. R. H. Summers.

ART LUNCHEON SCHEDULED AT LAGUNA BEACH

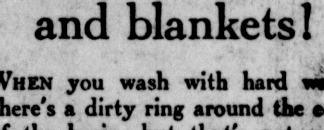

LAGUNA BEACH, March 28.—One of the chief events of the art-Teacher association luncheon is the art appreciation luncheon, which has been set for April 11 at the school house. Mrs. A. B. Marshall, president of the local branch and art chairman of the state association, is in general charge. Preparations have been under way for several weeks for the luncheon.

It is expected that about 75 invited guests will attend, including a number of prominent workers in the Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Robert Cardiff of Santa Cruz, state president of the association, will be guest. The four coast associations, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach and San Clemente, will unite in doing honor to the guests. Mrs. Neal Beisel, fourth district president, and many school officials are expected to be present.

Laguna Beach has been one of the communities most instrumental in bringing art appreciation before school children, and Mrs. Marshall has taken a leading part in this work.

the Spray crews move in!

NICONA-equipped spray outfits are starting the spring drive on destructive aphids, red spider, thrips and mealy bug.

NICONA is the choice of wise citrus growers at this time because of the thoroughness and economy with which it does its work in pest control. This spray contains the finest grade of summer oil plus a virulent form of nicotine—the recognized killer of orchard pests. It is easy and pleasant to use. It leaves the tree soon after application, thus not interfering with tree or fruit activities. It is, however, powerful enough to control off-hatch scale.

S. A. DAIRY BUYS LAGUNA BUSINESS

LAGUNA BEACH, March 28.—Purchase of the business of the Walden Idle Hour Chocolate shop, though not of the real estate, by Ralitt's Sanitary Dairy company, of Santa Ana, was confirmed today by J. T. Ralitt, president of the company. The property is located on Crest avenue and was bought by L. F. Walden about two years ago from D. D. Shea.

The Ralitt company will conduct the place as a downtown store and office, according to Mr. Ralitt, handling milk drinks, sandwiches and ice cream. It will be under the direct supervision of Mr. Ralitt and his daughter, Mrs. Elsie Woodward. Mr. Woodward has charge of milk routes for the company in this city.

Mr. Walden will continue the radio business which has been a part of the Chocolate shop. Mrs. Walden left a week ago for an extended eastern trip.

VISIT IN ORANGE

ORANGE, March 28.—F. A. Henderson and daughter, Mary Viola, and son, John, spent yesterday in Orange. Mr. Henderson, formerly principal of the Orange union high school, is superintendent of the city school of Burbank. Mrs. Henderson stopped in Garden Grove to visit with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Woodworth, who is ill.

Anaheim Officers Decline To Issue Marriage License

ANAHEIM, March 28.—"It'd like a license," ventured a red faced young man at police headquarters yesterday. "Dog or driver's license?" asked Desk Sergeant Harry Warton in a businesslike way.

The young girl who clung to the young man's arm gasped, and the young man said firmly, "Neither, we want a marriage license. We saw the sign on the door and thought this was the place to get one."

The young people were directed to the county clerk's office in Santa Ana and invited to return to Anaheim for the ceremony.

SCHOOL CANDIDATE IN BREA WITHDRAWS

BREA, March 28.—According to information received from grammar school headquarters, C. R. Merrifield, for the past six years a member of the grammar school board of Brea, after having filed his candidacy for re-election, has withdrawn it.

R. W. Phelps, petroleum engineer with the Union Oil company, has announced his candidacy as a member of the board. Phelps has been a resident of Brea since 1915 and has three children in the Brea grammar schools.

The election is to be held tomorrow, with the polls open from 8 in the morning until 8 at night.

CROWD EXPECTED FOR BEACH PLAY

NEWPORT BEACH, March 28.—A large crowd is expected to see "The Elopement of Ellen," which is to have its second presentation tonight in the Newport Beach grammar school. The production is being put on by the Balboa Chapel players.

The Chapel players include high school students from Santa Ana.

Huntington Beach and Balboa, who are living at Balboa Beach. Their organization grew from the Balboa Community Epworth league. They plan to present six plays during the season. Proceeds will be used for the advancement of league work, according to Merritt White, business manager of the players.

The Rev. Myron D. Sunday, pastor of the Balboa Methodist chapel, is acting as director of the comedy and the cast includes Miss Florence Bowman, Robert Blair, Miss Thelma Otey, Jack Beckett, Miss Dorise Young, David Valle and Ted Meese.

Fifth Election At Laguna Beach In Month Friday

LAGUNA BEACH, March 28.—The last of five elections which have been held in this city within little more than a month will be held Friday at the schoolhouse for the selection of school trustees. George E. Thompson, clerk of the board at present, and Roy Hopp are candidates for the position now held by Mr. Thompson. Joseph R.

Jahraus is candidate to succeed himself as trustee of the Tustin union high school.

Elections which have preceded this recently were one to dissolve the Laguna Beach sanitary district, which failed, and another later to replace three outgoing board members. The Arch Beach sanitary district also held an election to elect three directors. Tuesday the Laguna Beach county water district elected the incumbent members of its board to succeed themselves, putting them back for a term of four years. The school election is the last one in sight for some time.

First Woman Aerial Photographer

*Edith Keating Had a Hobby
For Taking Snapshots
And So She Was Graduated
From a Secretarial Job
To Pioneer in New Fields
For Flying Women*

Flying Photographer Keating . . . takes a squint through the finder of her camera before hopping off with her boss, Robert A. Smith.

By MARIAN GILLESPIE

GONE are the days in which woman's sphere had a limit, and the person responsible for the time-worn expression, "This is a man's world," would have reason to change his mind if he could look about him and see the unusual activities in which the gentler sex engages in the year 1929!

The latest field of endeavor which to date holds only one woman, but is open to all, is that of aerial photography. The lone eagle in this profession is Edith Keating, who holds the proud title of assistant manager of the oblique department of the Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc., New York City.

Even when photography was a strictly earth-bound profession, few women followed it commercially. Now that photographs taken from an altitude of anywhere from 500 to 16,000 feet promise a thrill to the hazardous, it is just possible that women will train for this new field.

Women are like that—rushing in where angels hesitate to plant an ethereal foot. But no matter how many aspiring women take to the air with their cameras, Edith Keating will still be the pioneer among them.

Miss Keating, who is an American by adoption, arrived in Halifax, N. S., one June morning sans luggage or anything, 33 years ago. Today she has snow white hair which belies her youth, although it does give her a distinguished appearance that would single her out in any crowd. Added to this distinguishing mark is her extraordinary alertness.

In talking to her, you are impressed by her superior mentality and her ability to visualize a situation quickly and in detail.

MISS KEATING'S premature whiteness came as a result of a shock received while her feet were firmly resting on solid ground, and not from aerial experience, as you might imagine.

In December, 1917, the world was startled with the news that a munition ship carrying a cargo of that potent explosive, T. N. T., had been rammed by a Belgian relief boat in Halifax harbor, resulting in the annihilation of both vessels, and the almost complete wrecking of the city of Halifax.

The Keating home was among the wreckage. One member of the family was killed outright. Edith was returning from the Halifax Ladies' College, where she was a student, and about to enter the gate when the T. N. T. let go in the harbor.

Although she was a mile and a half away from the scene of the disaster, a 10-foot beam came hurtling through the air and gave her a side-swipe on the head. The experience was enough to turn anyone's hair white and Miss Keating was lucky to have escaped with her life.

Returning to college was impossible, for there was no college to return to. It had gone the way of many another of the city's buildings.

Before the explosion, Miss Keating had put in an application to go overseas with the A. E. F., and her commission arrived just about the time Halifax was beginning to recover from the shock.

She started for New York to meet the contingent she was to accompany, arriving there the day the news was flashed over the world that the armistice had been signed.

Her ambition to become an overseas worker thwarted, she took another tack and started for California, where she entered the University of Southern California and completed the education she had been unable to finish in Halifax.

Miss Keating says she must have been born under a shocking planet, for before she returned to the Atlantic coast she was destined to experience a California earthquake and meet up with a cyclone in El Paso.

ABOUT this time she decided to return to New York, take a post-graduate course at Columbia and settle down to a womanly occupation; so stenography was her next step, which led to a position in the Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc.

Flyers returning from overseas brought pictures made from the air into the office where Miss Keating worked. A young English ace, Robert A. Smith, a member of the Royal Air Force and one of the Quiet Birdmen, had joined the Fairchild forces. His aerial photography fired the ambition of the young stenographer, who, all through her college career, had carried a camera, and was a prize winner in many amateur photographic contests.

Miss Keating determined to take up flying in her spare time with a view to becoming an aerial photographer. It was a lofty ambition and she couldn't get her firm enthused over it. However, she succeeded in selling the idea to an aviator, who agreed to take her on her first trial flight.

"Having been through one terrific explosion, an earthquake that shook me out of my bed and a cyclone that took half the town from its foundations, I thought I was shock-proof," said Miss Keating. "But I was totally unprepared for the sensation of flying, and planes were not the improved product in those days they are today."

"I got into the machine with my pilot, had the camera hoisted aboard and when the wheels of the plane left the earth I lost my nerve. I just closed my eyes and thought my time had come. Every instruction given me about pointing the camera completely left my mind. I was in such a tense state of excitement I couldn't even turn it, much less poise it over the side of the plane to get a picture. Needless to say, the camera was not used!

"When we landed without mishap I got control of myself and was humiliated beyond words to think of going back without any result except weak knees and a pounding heart."

"ON THE following day we tried it again. While I was more composed and managed to relax, the developed plate showed nothing that could be called an aerial photograph, although as I remember, there was an imprint of the tip of one wing.

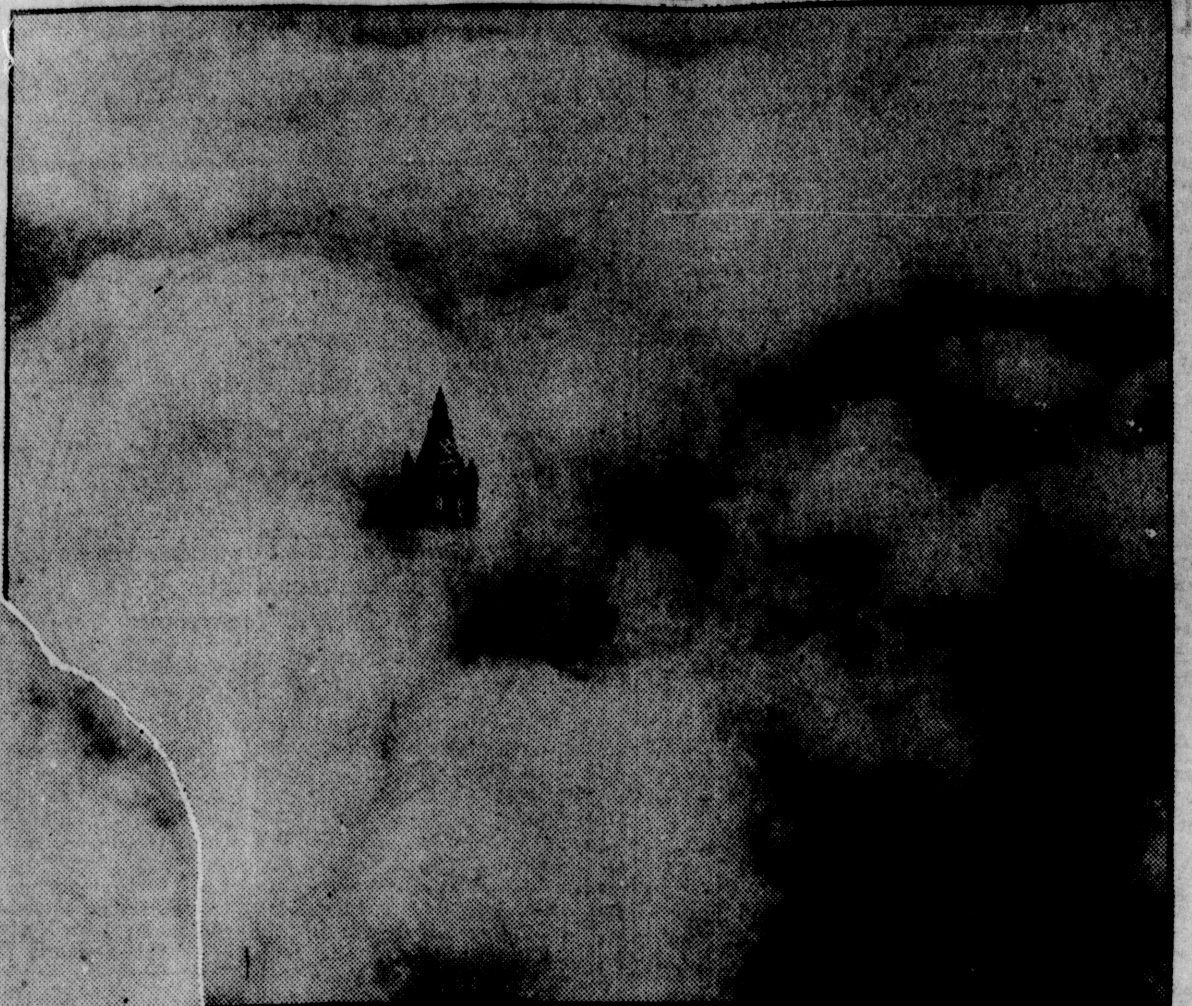

"But the third time I made a flight I managed to get a fairly decent picture of the town of Little Neck, L. I., much to the surprise of everyone concerned, but not to egotistic me. I just felt that I could do it, and knew I would do it if given time, and I finally accomplished what I set out to do—make real pictures from the air."

"You cannot know the real beauty of town or country until it is seen from the air. When I fly over New York I always see it as a dream city. I never remember it in terms of concrete and steel; to me it appears as a city of dreams, beautiful beyond description in the sunlight, and seen through a haze, as is often the case, it becomes a mirage—gigantic, awe-inspiring and unreal."

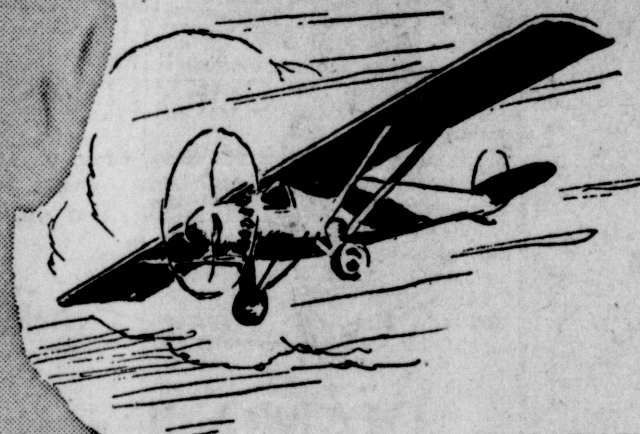

"In aerial photography there is, on an average, only one day in seven that pictures can be made successfully. There must be bright sunlight, with no smoke, haze or fleecy clouds to interfere if the picture is to be perfectly clear."

"Of course, light is not the only difficulty, although it is the greatest handicap. The camera weighs 50 pounds on the ground, and is set to take an exposure at 150th of a second. It works on a pivot, and with a plane going at the rate of 90 miles an hour, usually circling at an angle, it is quite a trick to get the object one is shooting at and do a good job."

"When I am asked what is the most necessary personal equipment for an aerial photographer, I always answer: 'An almost perfect geographical sense.' Unless one has this sense, which gives a pretty clear idea of distances, it is difficult to Believe it or not, this is a picture of the Woolworth Tower as Miss Keating "shot" it when the clouds hung low over Manhattan's skyscrapers.

is not necessarily a pilot, but most of the boys who take photographs from the air have been pilots at some time or other. A team of pilot and photographer get accustomed to working together and, whenever possible, undertake all operations together.

"MY FLYING experience assists me in practical business knowledge. I am able to explain intelligently to a client exactly what he needs in the line of aerial photography to suit his purpose best."

"Starting with a few pictures from the air as an advertising venture, we have today more than 15,000 photographs in our files that have been taken from elevations all over the country. Within the last six months my time has been spent almost wholly in the office, for the business is growing so rapidly it requires someone on the ground who actually knows photography from the air."

"As we use a Fairchild cabin plane, I usually wear ordinary business clothes on a flight. If we are going in for altitude, then, of course, we dress accordingly. It gets approximately 10 degrees colder for every 3000 feet of altitude."

"I believe that the costume for driving or riding in a plane will eventually change, just as our motoring costumes have changed. In the early days of the motor car we got ourselves up to look like hobgoblins; linen dusters completely covered our dresses, linen helmets with goggles made us look like inhabitants of Mars, or else our big flopping hats were completely enveloped in huge colored veils."

"Such costumes nowadays would cause the heartiest laughter, but at the time they were worn they were considered the last word in motor togs!"

"Today we wear for motoring the costume that will be appropriate at the journey's end. It is nothing exciting to see a woman driving her car attired in evening clothes, and when planes begin to be privately owned and used as extensively as automobiles, one may expect to see a woman in formal evening clothes driving her own plane!"

"ARE there any thrills in aerial photography? I suppose there are, but they are more vivid to the man in the street who is watching than to the pilot and the photographer in the plane."

"As an example: In flying through smoke, a cloud, or a bit of fog, the wings of the plane may be tip-tilted at such an angle when we emerge that it looks like a spill to a person who has always ridden on a level, but we aren't even conscious of the position. We have only one idea in mind—to get the photograph!"

"To get good photographs from the air demands concentration on the part of the photographer as well as skill on the part of the pilot who is flying the plane."

"Cloud conditions or rising smoke frequently give a pilot a false horizon, but if he were not capable of flying his plane regardless of the false position of the horizon, he wouldn't be up. This is a job where no week-end drivers need apply. A person who aspires to a pilot's license must qualify!"

"When you look from the ground and see a plane soaring at a sharp angle, the trouble lies not in the height, but in banking the wings too close to the ground. That same angle too near the earth would be troublesome; there wouldn't be sufficient wing room to right the ship."

"All this mention of horizons and banking the wings may be so much Greek to you, but it won't be very long until we all will be as familiar with these terms as we are with throwing in the clutch, shifting the gears and stepping on the gas. Another decade will see the use of planes becoming more and more general, and by that time I probably will have plenty of competition."

Miss Keating snapped this remarkable picture of Manhattan island from a height of 16,500 feet. . . . To her, New York is no "city of concrete and steel, but a mirage—gigantic, awe-inspiring, unreal."

aim at one spot and get in everything required to make a perfect print of the surroundings.

"Then, too, you must know, in this sense of distance, just how much of the surroundings is wanted. This comes with practice, and eventually the camera operator knows just the angle to shoot."

"IHAVE no thought or sense of fear when I'm in the air. I have such an intense interest in the work that my mind is given completely to the shots to be taken."

"It takes years of training to develop into an expert aerial photographer, but it can be done and the door is not closed to women if they are interested in entering this branch of the flying profession."

"We reckon experience by the number of hours spent in the air. Mr. Robert A. Smith, the head of the oblique department of the Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc., and to whom I have the honor of being assistant, has, in addition to his war service, a record of 1000 hours spent in the air making aerial photographs."

"He has photographed mountains in Mexico, American deserts, places where, if a flyer were forced to land, he would be doomed."

"I don't know whether I would ever be so daring. To date I have confined my photographic efforts to Manhattan Island and vicinity. I have never driven a plane, although I drive my car 100 miles back and forth from business each day. I always go up with a pilot. An aerial photographer

JURY CLEARS MOTORIST IN MAN'S DEATH

ORANGE, March 28.—A verdict of "unavoidable accident" was brought in by the coroner's jury at an inquest held at the C. W. Coffey funeral parlors yesterday afternoon over the body of Henry Cook, 77, who died yesterday morning as a result of an automobile accident which occurred Monday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Coffey funeral parlors. The Rev. M. L. Pearson, acting pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. Interment is to be made in Fairhaven cemetery. The deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian church. He suffered the injuries that caused his death as he was crossing the intersection of Orange street and East Chapman avenue. The aged man, who had just recovered from a serious illness, was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Fred Intorf, 315 Tustin avenue, who was turning to the left on Chapman to Orange street. Mrs. Intorf's car was forced to one side when it was struck by a car driven by Herbert McCarthy, of West Palm street, as she made the turn. McCarthy was going east on Chapman.

Cook is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jennie Cook, and one son, William Cook, of this city, and three daughters, Mrs. S. L. Hollenbeck, of Los Angeles; Mrs. J. C. Crane, of Homer, Mich.; and Mrs. A. C. Free, of Pittsburg. Mrs. Crane is on her way here.

THE long awaited is here... The year's most impressive achievement of America's fastest moving industry is brought to public view... The move so freely predicted has now actually happened—Marmon has built a straight-eight to sell (at the factory) for less than $1000.

There have been any number of four cylinder cars at this price... Today there are many sixes at this figure... But there is only one straight-eight—the Roosevelt.

Straight-Eight Concentration

It is but natural that this first low priced straight-eight should come from Marmon. Marmon, for more than two years has devoted its central efforts toward making the straight-eight, a practical, economical and long-lived car for all to own.

The first time you see the Roosevelt you are sure to recognize it as a new achievement in smart, yet thrifty, transportation. It's low and in the modern manner. No conflicting lines—but from radiator to back end one graceful line follows straight through. Marmon has taken the attitude that a $1000 car can be just as stylish in appearance, just as modern in appointment as a car costing twice this amount.

Roosevelt Five-Passenger Sedan, providing faithful, economical transportation in a more advanced manner

Roosevelt Performance

Marmon has made sure that the Roosevelt should measure up to the time-famed standards of Marmon performance. The Roosevelt motor is a straight-eight, built completely in Marmon plants. It develops 70 horsepower—far more power than any other car in its price field.

There are no waits while the motor is picking up the load—few hills that require a gear shift—no place any car of the price can go that the Roosevelt can't go in even less time and far more comfortably. The Roosevelt will out-perform any car at its price.

A STRAIGHT-EIGHT FOR EVERY PURSE

Roosevelt, $995; Marmon 68, $1465; Marmon 76, $1965. Prices at factory. Group equipment extra. Inquire about attractive income purchase plan.

CHAVEZ ON WAY TO FISTIC FAME

SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

By Robert Edgren

A small group of American golfers is about to sail for England to compete in the International Ryder cup matches at Moorfoot, April 26-27 and the British Open championship at Muirfield, May 6.

The names of most of the players are fairly well known. In the party will be Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, Leo Diegel and Johnny Farrell. "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, who wasn't picked for the Ryder cup team, but has been cracking all sorts of golf records these two months past, goes over alone. Bobby Cruickshank went across months in advance to get a lot of practice on English courses, and many others have gone or are going.

Invading England used to be a one-man job, but now everybody's doing it. It's a popular pastime. English golfers were once considered unbeatable. Now there's a theory that if mug hunting is too hard in America, any American golfer can pick up a collection in England.

Until the time of the World war, John Bull, with outstanding golfers like Harry Vardon, James Braid, J. H. Taylor and Ted Ray had a monopoly on pro honors. Up to that time no one from this side had even been able to come near winning the British Open, and Walter J. Travis had been the only American to capture the British Amateur crown.

England's reliable professionals have been growing old and since the war pro stars by the hundred have been popping into the money in America. America's young professionals outclass the world.

BOWLERS INVADE SWEDEN
Another American invasion will be conducted this year by the bowlers, who will go to compete in the International Tournament held in Stockholm, Sweden, June 6-10. Uncle Joe Thum of New York has been the leading spirit in these bowling trips for many years. He has gathered pin busters from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri.

The object of the coming trip is to win back the cup donated six years ago by the United Bowling clubs of New York, which is now held in Sweden. The Swedes being mighty bowlers.

The tournaments started in 1923 with only Sweden and America competing. This year there will be teams from Sweden, Finland, Holland, Germany, America, Norway and Denmark. In 1932, Uncle Joe says, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium and France will join the competition and bowling will be part of the Olympic Games held at Los Angeles.

Three thousand five-man bowling teams competed in the American Bowling Congress tournament at Chicago this month. There is no other sport that can show such a list of trained men in competition. There are more bowlers than golfers in America, and bowling is our greatest indoor sport.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Gil Dobie, Cornell football coach, told the old grads they ought to pay him to get out if he was such a rotten coach . . . And that he would surrender his contract for thirty grand . . . Dempsey didn't go to the dinner the New York boxing writers gave for Bill Carey, the new Garden boss . . . He said the dinner was given to Carey and he ought to have the spotlight . . . But they say the Dumps is sore because Carey got the credit for putting over the Miami Beach thing . . . And when it looked like a sure failure it was Dempsey's show . . .

The entertainment of the press in Miami Beach cost the Garden bunch $50,000 . . . They say . . . But it was charged to expenses and came out of the gross . . . And it took five grand out of Dempsey's end . . . 'Tis said.

WHAT A MAN, EH!
If ever an honest tribute was paid to the skill and ability of a young man it was paid to Bucky Harris, the new manager of the Detroit Tigers, in the training camps of the other American league clubs.

Every manager of the seven other clubs in the league admitted the greatest respect for the power and possibilities of the Detroit club and when pressed for a reason they all paid a compliment, directly or indirectly, to Harris.

Those who did not mention the skill of the new manager as their first reason for respecting the team said—"That Uhle might win thirty ball games this year." And in the next breath the flowers were tossed at "Bucky" with the explanation—"He'll pitch for Harris."

WORRIED ABOUT ATHLETICS
Since it has appeared in print there is no obligation to hold a confidence and it can be said that Connie Mack is sorely distressed about his Athletics. When I was in Ft. Myers he told me, confidentially, that he was not at all satisfied with his team. He didn't want to be quoted at that time for obvious reasons but since then he apparently is willing to admit his concern.

He said that Orwoll had been a big disappointment. He had counted on using him as a regular first baseman on his last year's form. But he was way off this year and he was afraid he wouldn't do.

He has his doubts about Hale at third base. Not for the reason that some of the ball players say but because he has become convinced that his hands are too small.

He also was worried about his outfield. Not about the regulars but what would happen if one of the regulars should be injured. He hasn't enough reserves of the right kind.

Southern Teams In Hoop Finals
WICHITA, Kan., March 28.—With teams from all other parts of the country eliminated, the National A. U. girls' basketball tournament became a fight between Southern teams today.

The Schepps' Aces, of Dallas, may meet Randolph college of Cisco, Tex., in the finals here, just as they met in the finals of the A. U. Southern tournament two weeks ago. Both teams were among the five winners last night.

Cisco defeated the Kansas City Fairylanes, 22 to 15. Schepps' Aces defeated the Panthers of Palatka, Fla., 40 to 15.

Smith New Golf Marvel

HAIL YOUTH AS ANOTHER JONES AFTER VICTORY

BY FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 28.—Horton Smith, 20-year-old golf professional of Joplin, Mo., did not need his sensational victory in the North and South Open tournament at Pinehurst yesterday to be recognized as the outstanding golfer of the winter season.

Already Smith's victories over the country's leading professionals in the open championships of Oklahoma City, Catalina Island, Pensacola, Fort Myers, Florida and La Gorce had won him recognition.

But when the youngest from Joplin followed up his triumph in the $15,000 La Gorce tourney by winning the North-South Open at Pinehurst, he set golf critics the world over to asking if a new star of the links had arisen to eclipse Bobby Jones, long regarded as having no equal in the firmament of tee and hazard.

Smith won out yesterday at Pinehurst by shooting a 67 for his morning round, winding up by leading Tommy Armour, former amateur champion by two strokes with a total of 287.

Marvel of Consistency
The fact that a professional golfer shot a 67, five strokes under par, and came through to win one of the coveted prizes of the South would not cause any more than passing comment, if this same professional had not been doing something of the sort all winter.

Golf, as played by professionals in this day and age, has reached a stage where only consistency surprises.

Horton Smith might have won himself half a dozen tournaments during the winter and still have been regarded as one of those flashes in the pan who flare up ever so often.

But when a youngster of 20, who has traveled some 14,000 miles and won more than $14,000 in prize money, tops off a record by winning both the La Gorce and North-South Opens, one can hardly withhold from him the most extravagant praise a game essentially Scotch permits one to give.

Successor To Jones
With the announcement at Pinehurst that Bobby Jones was considering retiring, the question of the Atlanta's successor naturally arose. At the moment, it looks as though Horton Smith, at 20, stands the best chance of filling Bobby's shoes as the outstanding golfer of the world.

It might be said that Jones himself, even in his greatest form, never compiled as great a record of consecutive victories in major tournaments as has Smith this winter. Naturally, the Joplin, Mo., pro, despite what he has done during the last few months, must continue to keep up the good work if he is to be rated up with Jones and the immortals.

Horton Smith gives every sign of being capable of winning such a rating.

SEALS EVEN SERIES WITH 'OUR BEAVERS'

The 1928 champion Seals won their second start of the Pacific Coast league's new season yesterday against Portland by a 3 to 1 score, evening the series. But for several minutes in the ninth inning, when the Beavers had socked out three hits and scored their lone tally, things looked bad for the Seals. Portland had two men on base with two outs scored against them and Joe Bush hit a high long one to left field. It looked like a homer, but "Red" Wingo got under it against the bleachers.

Los Angeles made it two straight against Seattle, with another lopsided score of 13 to 3. The Indians led up to the sixth, when Dave Barbee lost a fly in the sun and the Angels started a four-run rally. Just to make sure, the Angels pelted the pill for five more runs in the seventh and three more in the eighth.

Sacramento took the lead in the fourth inning to beat Hollywood two straight, 5 to 4. The Oaks won the second of their games on the same grounds, 3 to 1, after having dropped the opener to the Missions.

The Schepps' Aces, of Dallas, may meet Randolph college of Cisco, Tex., in the finals here, just as they met in the finals of the A. U. Southern tournament two weeks ago. Both teams were among the five winners last night.

Cisco defeated the Kansas City Fairylanes, 22 to 15. Schepps' Aces defeated the Panthers of Palatka, Fla., 40 to 15.

Pennsylvania has upwards of 100,000 hunters of big game.

De Hate, Vargas Battle To Draw
WILMINGTON, March 28.—Joe Vargas and Paul De Hate fought a 10-round draw here last night. Joe Salas defeated Jimmy Black and Ferris Brown stopped Swede Leads.

There are 71 public golf putting courses in London, England.

BEAVERS TO PAY WILLIAMS' SALARY THROUGHOUT SEASON

Every pay day through the coming season, Mrs. Denny Williams will receive from the Portland baseball club the full amount of her husband's pay check, Tom L. Turner, president, has announced. Williams was killed in an auto accident, in which four other Portland players were injured, near San Clemente last Saturday night.

The Portland club also will pay all funeral expenses and will endeavor to arrange for a general league "Williams Day" with all receipts that day going to the bereaved widow.

Turner has wired 10 major league teams for ball players and said he would spend a fortune if necessary to rebuild his club. He is especially anxious to land Ken Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder, who, although no relation of Williams', also is an Oregon-bred athlete.

WILLARD, LATHROP BREAK EVEN IN FIRST TWO OF FOUR MEETS FOR CITY JUNIOR HIGH TITLE

Frances E. Willard and Julia C. Lathrop divided honors yesterday in the first two of their four annual track and field meets to determine the junior high school championship of the city. The North Main street Indians captured the midget competition while the Lathrop Spartans came right back and sewed up the junior division title.

With Wimbush, Stevens and Blanchard in the starring roles, Frances Willard piled up a 30 1/2 to 24 1/2 lead in the midget meet and assured itself of victory regardless of the outcome of the relay which will be conducted Friday at the time of the intermediate and senior meets between the schools.

Julia Lathrop's margin in the junior meet was even more decisive, the score without the relay being 40 1/2 to 14 1/2. This put the South Main streeters well ahead in the grand total of points for which the Neal-Dyas championship trophy is awarded each season.

The two meets were largely devoid of exceptional performances except for the broad jumping of Pico, of Julia Lathrop, who hopped 18 feet, 5 inches and established a new Willard-Lathrop meet record.

Wimbush won two events and was high point man among the midgets with 10 1/2, closely followed by his teammate, Stevens, who made 9 1/2. Pico, with 13 1/2, and Bows, with 11, led the Lathrop side.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Tommy Loughran will have an eight pound weight advantage over Mickey Walker when the two meet in their light heavyweight title bout here tonight.

Loughran sprang a surprise this afternoon when he weighed in at 173 1/4, a loss of nine pounds since he started training. Few had expected the champion to get below 174. Walker weighed in at 165.

That opinion was the consensus today as Tommy Loughran prepared to defend his light heavyweight championship against Mickey Walker before the largest indoor crowd in history here tonight.

Confident of victory, both men were in fine condition and it seemed reasonable to assume that each will resort to his particular way of fighting.

Walker's style is the bulldog rush, designed to knock out an opponent. Loughran prefers to box and his ability in this respect indicates he will take the decision if he can avoid a knockout.

After Third Title
If Walker wins, he will become a three title-holder, an honor which only Bob Fitzsimmons has held. Mickey is the present midweight champion and he held the welterweight crown for several years.

There are those who believe that Mickey is a good enough boxer to hold his own over the 10 rounds but it seems likely that Loughran, with his 10-pound weight advantage, will beat the midweight titleholder if the match goes the limit.

Mickey probably will weigh no more than 165 pounds. Loughran must weigh in at 175 by 3 o'clock this afternoon and he will take on two or three pounds by the time the fight starts.

Mickey Fast Starter
Apparently Walker's best chance will come during the first three rounds. Mickey is a fast starter and Loughran begins slowly. In several fights it has taken Tom-

CIVIL WARFARE WON BY SAINT BALL CLUB, 6-3

Civil warfare broke out in the Santa Ana baseball camp yesterday with the high school defeating the junior college, 6 to 3, in a six inning quarrel at Poly field.

Earl Homan was on the ridge for the Saints and blanked the Dons in every round except the fifth when hits by Whitlam, Lennin, Edson and Duncan and an error produced three scores.

The high schoolers got a pair in the third on Wright's single, Homan's double and Sullivan's sacrifice. Reichstein got a walk in the fourth, stole second and scored on Wright's second single. The teams went into the last frame at three—all but the Saints picked up their winning counters on singles by Youel and Vance, a walk, two stolen bases, a fielder's choice and an infield out.

BOY PAID $1.50 FOR INITIAL GO NOW HEADLINER

BY RINGSIDER

A lean, hungry, tousle-haired little Mexican boy, clad only in a home-constructed pair of trunks, made an uncertain way down the aisle of an obscure tobacco-smuggled fight club at Huntington Beach two years ago and began a fistic career that may—who knows?—skyrocket him to heights greater than any of his countrymen, Sorio, Colima, Jose Rivers or Herrera, have scaled.

The pot of gold is waiting for a real Mexican ring champion and this young fellow—Zenaydo Chavez, of Santa Ana—may be the one to cash in where the others failed. Chavez got exactly $1.50 for knocking out Billy Forbes that eventful night.

Signs To Box Adams
Through Earl Grigsby, his manager, Chavez today signed articles of agreement for two 10-round main events at Wilmington that will enrich the family he supports $1000, possibly more.

Chavez will meet the San Bernardino "Mountain Lion," Johnny Adams, on April 17 and Johnny Priston, of San Francisco, May 23.

If he wins both decisively it is understood, on good authority, Chavez will be offered a match either at Wilmington or the Olympic in Los Angeles with the reigning but somewhat reticently defending junior welterweight champion of the world, Mushy Callahan.

Chavez has done pretty well in the fight game already. He started as an amateur and most of his recompense was slight but as he improved his "prizes" increased accordingly. Amateurs were supposed to be boxing for the love of the sport, and Chavez was for that matter, but he was getting paid, as all "amateurs" were, just as everybody knew.

Critics Impressed
He went professional eventually and success, fickle though success is, followed. Chavez became a main eventer. He won, sometimes decisively when he could drive in his great right hand, and sometimes not so decisively when he couldn't, but he kept winning.

He beat Jimmie Rivers in a spectacular bout. He knocked out Vearle Whitehead and stopped Billy Clark. He meets Johnny Nandez, an old time opponent of the amateur days, here next week and then again boxes Rivers, who is apt to prove a stumbling block.

Adams, Priston and the then Callahan—maybe.

Chavez is still little more than a novice. He must learn to box better and must, like Jack Dempsey had to do, train his left hand to be more than just a hand. But the experts say he has infinite possibilities.

OWNERS ORGANIZING TO OPPOSE LANDIS?

SARASOTA, Fla., March 28.—Disgruntled representatives of American league clubs affected by the recent ruling of Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, declaring nine well known players free agents, may meet here today to confer on the matter.

Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, is understood to have been flying in his airplane from one Florida training camp to another, soliciting support for a movement to oppose Judge Landis.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, is heartily in accord with Ball in opposition to the commissioner, and it is understood here that support also has been obtained from the Philadelphia American league club, which was affected by the sensational ruling.

VISIONS ROSY RING FUTURE

Al Lassman, captain of the New York university football squad who was seriously injured in the last game of the 1928 season, is on the road to health again and hopeful of entering the professional ring.

With a courage far finer than any ever shown on the gridiron or in the ring, Al Lassman is waging a winning fight against injuries which had him under the goal posts of death.

At his parental home in Cambridge, Mass., the stout-hearted New York university football and ring hero is on the home stretch to good health and to his greatest ambition, the professional prize ring.

After the serious injuries Lassman suffered in the Carnegie Tech-N. Y. U. game last fall, there remained a great danger of his being a helpless invalid for life. There seemed scant hope that he would ever regain his former athletic condition.

But Lassman did not curl up. After a siege in the hospital, he went to Miami for a long rest. The sunny southern climate and the complete relaxation worked wonders for his condition. Just recently Al returned to his old home, where his many friends report him near a complete cure.

He realizes his head injuries may be a permanent handicap to his progress in the fight game, still he visions a heavyweight championship and the wealth that goes with it, which he would use to build a dream home for his father and mother.

Dog Racing Will Begin On June 30
AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, March 28.—The third annual meeting of the Agua Caliente Kennel club will open Sunday, June 30, and continue through the summer, with races every day except Mondays, until Admission day, Monday, September 9. Thereafter until Christmas races will be held on Sundays only.

BRONCOS TRIM GAELS
SANTA CLARA, March 28.—The Santa Clara university baseball team tightened its grip on leadership of the California Coast conference race by taking the second straight victory over St. Mary's here yesterday, 18 to 9, in a real slugfest off four St. Mary's pitchers. It was the first time in a decade that the Broncos had won a series from the rival Gaels.

Lt. Kennedy May Referee Big Bout
LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Lieut. Jack Kennedy of the Pacific battle fleet may be named referee of the Tod Morgan-Santiago Zorilla world's junior lightweight championship bout here next Tuesday, it was reported today.

Although the report was without confirmation from official sources, it was pointed out that Kennedy is one of the few local arbiters who has never been the target of criticism from fans or fighters.

An international boys' camp will be instituted in Japan next year.

FABER CREDITS SPITBALL FOR HIS LONGEVITY

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, March 28.—Convinced that the spitball is responsible for his longevity as a big league pitcher, "Red" Faber this spring begins his twenty-first year in baseball. "Red" believes that the spitball is the easiest of all deliveries on the arm. To prove his point he refers to Jack Quinn and Burleigh Grimes as well as himself. All of them are old enough to be the fathers of some of the present big league players.

"The only thing you have to watch about the spitball," Red said, "is not to go on the hill too often."

Just take the old regular turn and everything is okeh but try to work out of turn and the arm quits functioning."

"Red" believes overwork cut short the career of Big Ed Walsh, one of the greatest exponents of the spitball.

The Case of Walsh
"Everybody said Walsh's arm quit because the spitball placed too great a burden on it," Faber said. "I believe that what killed Walsh was overwork. One season I tried overwork and was in eight games in nine days. For a time after that my arm seemed gone. Although that's nearly 15 years ago I haven't tried the same thing since."

"Red" once experienced a peculiar arm trouble which threatened to cut short his career but he does not believe the spitball had anything to do with that.

The trouble centered in "Red's" right elbow and doctors finally diagnosed it as chipping of the bones. An operation relieved the trouble and Faber came back to pitch more winning baseball even though he then was past what was considered the age-limit for pitchers. He resorted to the spitball in 1911, when he hurt his arm and virtually lost power to throw a curve. He mastered the delivery in two years at Pueblo and Des Moines in the Western league and reported to the White Sox in 1914.

Relying on the spitball as his major delivery, Red improved his arm until he eventually regained his curve ball and for years he has been one of the most feared pitchers in the league.

Historic "Boner"
Besides his pitching, "Red's" color has made him known for several other things. While one of them is not exactly complimentary, the Faber good humor perhaps allowed him to forget to remember "Red" as the perpetrator of one of the game's boners.

Back in 1917, in the world's series between the White Sox and Giants, "Red," perched on second, decided it was easier to score from third so he stole third.

That would have been well and good had it not been for the fact that "Buck" Weaver was waiting to score for the White Sox from that point.

When the astounded Weaver saw Faber slide into the bag, his first words were "where the hell you going?"

"Red" seeing he had made the third out casually remarked, "it looks like I'm going back and do some more pitching."

Faber won three games of that series, so he made good on his statement, "some more pitching."

Stanford Meets Huskies Indoors

SEATTLE, March 28.—The Pacific Coast's first indoor track meet will be held at the University of Washington pavilion tonight when the Huskies meet Stanford.

Five of the best track men in the world will be seen in action.

Fred Sturdy, Yale pole vaulter, will try for a new world's record. Bob King, Olympic Games high jumper and assistant Stanford coach, will be seen in exhibition jumping. Ross Nichols, Stanford and Steve Anderson, Washington, will vie in the high hurdles. Eric Krens, Stanford, will attempt to shatter his own world record in the discus throw.

Two-Year-Olds To Close Race Meet

TIJUANA RACE TRACK, March 28.—Two-year-old baby thoroughbreds will hold the center of attention as the 1928-29 winter race meeting comes to a close here next Sunday, March 31. The Futurity, a five furlong race exclusively for the youngsters, holds procedure on a gala racing program planned for closing week.

Callahan Favored Over Jackie Carr

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight champion, has been installed a favorite over Jackie Carr in their 10-round bout here tonight. The title is not at stake.

Despite the fact that Carr gave Callahan a thorough trouncing here several months ago the champion is favored to win.

TROJAN NINE TRIUMPHANT
LOS ANGELES, March 28.—The University of Southern California baseball team defeated Stanford here yesterday, 5 to 4. It was the second straight win for the Trojans over Stanford.

Approximately 25,000 persons are expected to see the fight, which will be held in the new Chicago stadium, the building which a year ago was but a dream of Promoter Paddy Harmon and now has become a reality.

The main event will be backed up with a semi-windup which would go as a main bout anywhere. In the semi-windup, "Tuffy" Griffiths and Leo Lomski will meet for the right to fight the winner of the Loughran-Walker go. Lomski won a decision from Griffiths in Detroit a few weeks ago but the verdict was booed.

3 MORE ECONOMICAL DELIVERY

This PLEDGE actively works to the advantage of EVERY MAN who buys a GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK

1929 PONTIAC-powered LIGHT DUTY Equipment

Advancements in the famous engine bring 10% to 30% greater actual performance . . . Huskier trucks throughout . . . Strikingly fine lines and appearance . . . Models of 7 different basic STRAIGHT RATINGS. (Prices, chassis only, F. O. B., Pontiac, Mich.):

$625 to $1085

TRUCKS of modern efficiency call for methods equally modern. Pledged to further the cause of Better Delivery (better truck transportation) General Motors Trucks match efficiency of vehicles with modern standards in methods of selling—and in co-operation between buyer and seller.

Prices of General Motors Trucks are not "padded". No unsound "excess allowances" on trade-ins are made. Extra value is given, instead. The advantages of unusual manufacturing facilities are fairly shared with the man who buys.

STRAIGHT RATING is a sane new method, giving the buyer exact, advance information—and a guarantee that means something. It clarifies the problems of wise truck-investment. And brings new economies to actual operation of equipment. It is based upon the maximum allowable total gross weight under which any given model will operate with top efficiency, year in and year out. It is simple, accurate; an advancement of the most practical value.

These modernized methods and principles apply to every model in the complete line of GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS—a truly modern line which includes also new BUICK-powered trucks for medium-, and heavier-duty; and models for heaviest-duty, powered by BIG BRUTE engines. See these trucks; apply these definite advantages in considering any truck investment.

ORANGE COUNTY PAYS $66,270 ESTATE TAXES

BY HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 28.—(UP)—Orange county paid a total of $66,270.84 into California's state treasury from inheritance tax collections during 1928. It was disclosed today in the biennial report of State Controller Ray L. Riley.

Inheritance taxes are now an important part of this state's revenue system, Riley said, and the total collected from this source throughout the state was $11,272,179.73 for the year. The tax was collected upon 3820 estates of an aggregate value of $231,747,975.40.

During 1927 the state collected

$8,700,429.18 upon 3325 estates totaling $233,768,916.68 in value.

"The increase of collections during 1928 is traceable to the adoption in 1927 of a new section to the Inheritance Tax Act of California," Riley explained. "This permitted the state to take advantage of the full 80 per cent credit granted by the Federal Estate Tax Act."

"In effect, the new section hasn't burdened the estates of California decedents with greater amounts of death duties, but has retained for this state the difference between the state tax and the 80 per cent credit paid previously to the federal government."

SHE NEVER WASHES DISHES
...with two maids to do all the work, of course her hands are lovely and white and smooth.

Which are the hands of the rich man's wife?

SHE WASHES DISHES 3 times a day—yet her hands are as lovely as the hands of a woman of leisure. Read the secret below—

305 Famous Beauty Shops say—

"WE actually cannot distinguish between the hands of a woman of leisure and wealth—with servants to do all her work—and the hands of a woman who uses Lux in her dishpan... Lux gives real beauty care."

What a marvelous suggestion for all busy women—

"Beauty care" right in the dishpan!

And how true it is! After washing dishes with Lux your hands do look smoother and whiter and lovelier than before! Every minute they're in the gentle, sparkling Lux suds they're receiving glorious beauty care!

For Lux is different from ordinary soaps... so utterly pure, so bland, that it protects the precious beauty oils of the skin—the youth oils—keeping the hands young and lovely. Many soaps dry up these oils, giving the skin that drawn, crisscross-lined look—making the hands seem work-worn and old.

Begin using Lux in the dishpan today! Give your hands the wisest, most inexpensive beauty care known. Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1¢ a day. Lovely hands for so small a price!

WIFE RECEIVES WORD HUSBAND BULLET VICTIM

Mrs. Jefferson Britton, daughter of A. H. Lyon, departed today for Dallas, Tex., following receipt of information that her husband was accidentally killed at his home there yesterday. Mrs. Britton was accompanied by her three-year-old son, Thomas Jefferson Britton III.

According to meager details Mrs. Britton received here of the accident which resulted in the death of her husband, Mr. Britton was killed when a pistol exploded following a fall from a shelf of which he was examining books in a storeroom.

Mr. Britton was 30 years of age and was a graduate of West Point, being a member of the class of 1924. He was engaged in the insurance business in Dallas.

Mrs. Britton was called to Santa Ana several weeks ago by the illness and death of her mother and she was preparing to return home when she received the shocking news of the accidental death of Mr. Britton. Besides the wife and son, Mr. Britton is survived by his mother and two sisters residing in Dallas.

INDIANS WILL TAKE PART IN COUNTY'S FAIR

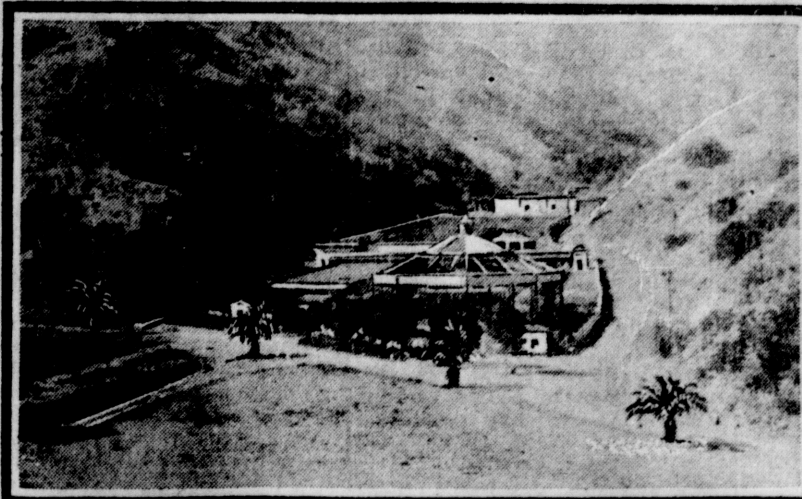

An Indian village will be one of the features of the 1929 Orange county fair, it was revealed at the meeting of the board of directors of the Orange County Fair association held here last night.

Twenty-five adult Indians and a large number of kiddies will form the village, and the Indians will be representatives of several different tribes, according to a statement by S. W. Stanley, secretary. Chief Black Hawk will be in charge.

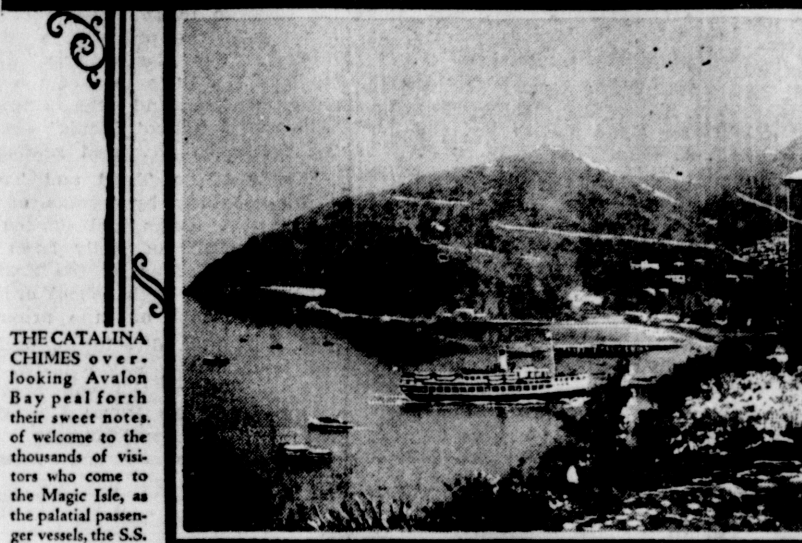

The board is giving consideration to a request by Len Thrall, William Whitehead and others that they be permitted to organize the rodeo scheduled as part of the fair program. The men have expressed the belief that they can organize a show equal to the best put on by organized rodeo companies.

Other entertainment features were discussed, including the horse show, in which the Orange County Riding club has given assurance of its full co-operation.

THE CATALINA CHIMES overlooking Avalon Bay peal forth their sweet notes of welcome to the thousands of visitors who come to the Magic Isle, as the palatial passenger vessels, the S.S. Avalon and the S.S. Catalina come to dock.

CATALINA'S NEW COUNTRY CLUB HOUSE and sports nine-hole golf links will be the scene of a Women's Invitation Tournament, May 6-7, 1929.

MOOT QUESTION IS DECIDED BY VOTE TODAY

A margin of one vote today decreed that the Santa Ana high school graduating seniors of 1929 will wear the regulation caps and gowns as did their predecessors last year.

The seniors met in a special assembly called by their president, Jerry Tannenbaum, for a re-vote on the subject. Tannenbaum led the faction in favor of the caps and gowns, and Newell Vandermast, former student body president, led the group that favored suits and dresses to be worn by the graduates.

The question was put to vote almost immediately after the meeting was called to order, having been fully discussed from both angles at Tuesday's assembly. About 150 seniors cast their votes which resulted in a one vote margin for the caps and gowns.

The 1928 seniors were the first Poly group to wear the uniforms, as in former years the opposing factions always decided the question. This year's fight was one of the most hotly contested squabbles in the high school history.

Santa Ana Couple Is Honored on Golden Wedding Day

Surrounded by their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Burritt Welles of 602 East Pine street, yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary when they were honored guests at an attractive dinner given at their home by their daughters, Miss Doris Welles and Mrs. Frances Howell.

Lighted candles cast a golden glow over the table and deepened the gold in the lovely bouquet that centered the table and to add a bright note to the gay little nut cups and place cards.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Welles, J. C. Welles of Hemet, Mrs. Mary Mann and her daughter, Miss Mary Lou Mann, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Leesen, and their daughter, Miss Audrey Leesen, all of Colton, Mrs. Winfield Pratt, Franklin Pratt, Ernest Pratt, and Miss Jessie Pratt of Los Angeles, Miss Doris Welles, Mrs. Florence Hicks, Mrs. Frances Howell, Miss Howell, Miss Betty Howell, John Howell, Dean Howell, and Mrs. Vern Bishop of this city.

It was an especially appropriate time for Mr. and Mrs. Welles to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary for it made it possible for their daughter, Miss Doris Welles, to be present for the affair. Miss Welles is spending this year in California following a number of years in Calcutta where she was a missionary.

The hours following the dinner were devoted to happy reminiscence and to listening to the many interesting tales of Indian life as told by Miss Welles.

Mr. and Mrs. Welles were married March 27, 1879 in Monticello, Minn., where they spent the first 25 years of their married life. They left Monticello in 1904 and moved to Santa Ana where they have resided ever since.

At yesterday's dinner two of the guests, Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Leesen, told of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Welles for they had been present at the affair and attended the reception afterwards.

Eminent Scientist Is Complimented at Dinner Party

An intimate glimpse of activities in the scientific world, was vouchsafed a little group of friends of Mrs. Victor Montgomery when they were extended the hospitality of her home at 1418 North Main street last night to meet that distinguished scientist, Dr. Harold D. Fish, whose lecture before Ebell society on Monday afternoon, was one of the outstanding events of the Ebell year.

Dr. Fish is remaining in Santa Ana for a several days' rest before continuing on a lecture tour in line with his research duties at the University of Michigan, and is a guest at St. Ann's Inn. In assembling a group of her friends to meet him, Mrs. Montgomery chose those whose travels had taken them near the South American scene of much of his biological delving—the William Beebe laboratory far in the jungles of British Guiana, and those whose academic interests paralleled his scientific ones.

Dinner was served to the accompaniment of lively conversation of far places of the earth, with an occasional return to the narrow walls of a laboratory when Dr. Fish told of some of his extensive experiments in biology, or when genetics and the Mendelian law held the floor. The table scene was as animated as the flow of conversation, for the hostess had used a long narrow basket filled with a bewildering variety of California blossoms, and tied with a great bow of rose ribbon.

Members of Bridge Club And Husbands Guests At Pretty Party

A pretty affair of the past week was the bridge party with which Mrs. Rex McGill of Orange and her sister, Mrs. Leavitt Ford of Garden Grove, entertained members of their bridge club and their husbands. The delightful party took place at Mrs. McGill's home.

Handsome bridge prizes had been chosen for the occasion and they were awarded Mrs. Kenneth Skadden, Mrs. Harold O'Donnell, Mrs. Eugene Thomas, Harold O'Donnell, Eugene Thomas, and Burton Wright when scores were added.

While guests were admiring the attractive gifts, the hostesses arranged the card tables for the delicious supper course that carried out the Easter motif as did place cards and the lovely flowers in pastel tints.

Those present for the party included Mr. and Mrs. Ford and Mr. and Mrs. McGill, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Harold O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phillips, Wayne Lauderbach, and Ethan Lauderbach of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Skadden, Mrs. Stanley Gates and Miss Gertrude Hesch of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Harding Ford of Fullerton.

P.-T. A. Entertainment Comes Tonight at Temple Theater

After several strenuous weeks of preparation, members of the McKinley P.-T. A. were today in readiness for the rise of the Temple theater curtain tonight at 7:45 o'clock, on the long-anticipated entertainment whose proceeds will, it is hoped, add materially to the funds of the P.-T. A. treasury.

Variety has been the keynote of the plans formulated by Mrs. H. L. McKague, president of McKinley P.-T. A. and patrons are promised entertainment from the curtain's rise to its final lowering. In making her plans and working them out, Mrs. McKague has had the invaluable aid of Mrs. Charles Carrillo, a former president of the association, and of the members in general, whether they belong to the teacher group of members, or the mothers.

Miss Mary Andrews, principal, and her corps of teachers have assumed the responsibility of drilling the children in their parts in two features of the program, a pretty fantasy, "The Easter Party," which employs the little tots of the primary grades, and the amusing "Spiceville School Picnic" featuring the more advanced grades.

"Twelve Men Tried and True," a one-act play by women of the association, songs and dances by talented pupils of Holly Lash Visel, and selections by the Frances Willard junior high school orchestra, will round out the program.

S. J. Mustel, director of orchestra work in the city schools, will have charge of the young musicians, and "The Royal Highway," his own composition, will be played as the opening number. Other numbers will include "Moonlight on the Nile," a concert waltz by L. King, and "Grand Opera Selections" arranged by E. Ascher.

The personnel of the Willard orchestra includes Reese Allison, Charles Bain, John Bittle, Charles Brown, Herbert Covington, Hubert Dale, Ethel Dean, Christy Demetrio, Valerie Demetrio, John Fainburg, Neola Fox, Virginia Fox, Demont Galbraith, Elizabeth Garlick, Vincent Gerren, Bonnie Hamilton, Albert Hill, Beatrice Hinkle, Olga Hostile, Dick Key, Boyd Lentz, Donald Lentz, Corinne Linger, Marjorie Marble, Ruby Moore, Robert Natzel, Claude Owens, Harry Owings, Murray Patton, Mary Paxton, Stuart Peek, Ella Pleiss, Ruth Pleiss, Malcolm Richards, Louise Sexton, Bill Spurgeon, Donald Stevens, Esther Wallace, Mary Wallace, Brooks Wright, and Elinor Morilla.

Those who have not yet secured their tickets for the entertainment, may get them at the box office tonight in advance of the opening hour.

Newlyweds Honored At Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Carwright Smith whose marriage occurred recently in Yuma, Ariz., were complimented this week at an attractive dinner party given for them by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wesley Smith, also of Garden Grove.

Covers were laid at the prettily decorated table for the hosts, their honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith, and Harold Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Harvey of 806 Lacy street.

Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain of 2035 North Broadway is spending a few days in Los Angeles.

State U. D. C. Officer To See Dedication Of Dixie Manor

Interest among those Santa Anans who by heritage and tradition are of the "Old South," has been very warm in "Dixie Manor," the Confederate Veterans' home at San Gabriel, which is now completed, and which will be formally dedicated on Sunday, April 14.

Miss Gertrude Montgomery, corresponding secretary of the California chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy, has received an attractively engraved invitation to the opening reception which will be held that afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, and at which the guests of honor will be Gen. S. S. Simmons, the Rev. Josiah Sibley and John S. McGroarty.

General Simmons has been a frequent visitor in Santa Ana and is a commanding figure in person as well as in history of the Confederate Veterans' organization. Tall and erect of bearing, he wears his years as a crown, and is true to the type of what fancy and tradition have pictured as a southern gentleman of the old school.

Miss Montgomery, who expects to be one of the guests on the afternoon of the dedication, will also be one of three members of Emma A. Sansom chapter, U. D. C. to be entertained in Los Angeles next Wednesday afternoon, at a smart luncheon complimenting state officers and chapter presidents.

Mrs. Victor Montgomery, a past state president, and Mrs. B. E. Tarver, president of the local chapter, will complete the trio representing this city.

The function will be given in the home of Mrs. Little Gilbert Dunn, 1333 South Alvarado Terrace, Los Angeles.

New Sewing Club Is Organized

An interesting little club was organized yesterday when a group of women met at the home of Mrs. Robert Hopkins of 2024 Cypress avenue for a pleasant afternoon of sewing and chat.

The group decided to meet every two weeks and members were asked to think of suitable names for the club so that one may be chosen at the next meeting.

At the tea hour, Mrs. Hopkins served delicious refreshments that carried out the color scheme expressed in the bouquets of pink carnations used throughout her home.

Those present included Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Silas Wheeler, Mrs. Norman Walker, Miss Priscilla Wheeler, and Mrs. James Wheeler.

Annual Fair Planned By Lowell School

During the past year, students at Lowell grammar school have sewed, and cooked, and planted gardens, and raised livestock of various kinds including pigeons, rabbits, puppies and kittens, and the results of their labors will be put on display tomorrow afternoon at the annual fair which will be held from 2:30 until 5 o'clock.

Examples of their work in the class room also will be exhibited. Members of the Lowell P.-T. A. are planning a cooked food sale for the event which will include cakes, pies, and candy.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the affair.

Woman's Relief Corps Has Interesting Meeting

An especially pleasing program was presented yesterday at the meeting of the Woman's Relief corps at K. P. hall. The program had been arranged by Mrs. Estelle Gray who introduced those taking part in the entertainment.

Mrs. Edith Knesel of Orange gave a humorous reading and Mrs. Talbot favored with a recitation of her own composition. J. W. Spencer rendered a violin solo with Mrs. Gray accompanying him at the piano. Mrs. Richard Walsh of Anaheim gave a reading and the members of the Ladies of the G. A. R. gave a clever skit, "Yankee Doodle Kitchen."

The address was given by the Rev. E. W. Matz of the First Evangelical church.

Following the program and the pot luck luncheon that was served at noon, members held a business meeting when it was reported that 68 visits had been made, and 26 bouquets sent to members who were ill.

Mrs. Ida Hughes of Anaheim, president of Federation No. 1, W. R. C., who was present for the meeting gave an address on co-operation.

A new member, Mrs. Rosa Holbrook, was initiated, and three applications for membership were balloted upon.

A $10 donation from Sedgwick state officers and chapter presidents, was acknowledged by a committee from the Santa Ana high school P.-T. A.

It was announced that the corps will present a flag to the Second Baptist church on April 7.

Grand Army day is to be observed soon when a program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Kate Sutton.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Y. L. I.

Thirteen new members were initiated into the Young Ladies Institute when that organization met recently at the Knights of Columbus hall. They included the Misses Mary June Naylor, Hildesgarde Layton, Veronice Stewart, Mary Clare Shellhouse, Florence Comite, Lucille Comite, Lillian Batt, Helen Gorman, Nellie Columbine, Irene Columbine, Abbie Shoen, Mary Frances Daley, and Edna Arnold.

Preceding the initiation the new members were honored at a pot luck dinner served at the hall.

Charming Dinner Honors Daughter and Her Fiance

The approaching marriage of Mrs. Marie Hollen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Waters of Anaheim, and Harvey Tadlock, son of Mrs. M. Tadlock of this city, has been the incentive for a number of social events recently, one of the most delightful being the dinner given for the two by Mr. and Mrs. Waters.

The dining table was very lovely with its shining silver and china and bright spring flowers and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Hollen, Mr. Tadlock, Mr. and Mrs. George Benson and Mrs. M. Tadlock of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Astenden of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Halber of Placentia, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Tadlock of Owensmouth.

A smaller table had been arranged for the children of the party where places were marked for Donald Halber, Phyllis Tadlock, Dorothy Tadlock, and Frederick Hollen.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS FRATERNAL HOUSEHOLD

The WOMAN'S DAY- by ALLENE SUMNER

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

The Federal Council of Churches, "alarmed by the rebellion of the younger generation against conventional sex standards," appointed a committee which recently issued its first report on "Ideals of Love and Marriage." One Bishop presided over 21 preachers and professional church workers, three laymen and one representative of the American Social Hygiene Association as the only social worker. The committee decided that—"The Christian ideal of marriage can make no compromise with lax sex relations."

"The chief danger of companionate marriage is that it puts sex desire first."

"The free woman on the basis of equality and self-respect can be the life-mate of one man only."

"Divorce, even when allowed by the church, must be looked upon as a tragic and humiliating failure."

DECISION QUESTIONED

The magazine, "The Nation," makes the following pertinent comment:

"Such sweeping generalizations naturally evoke questions. What, precisely, are 'lax sex relations'? Is the church to be the judge of laxity or is the younger generation to be the judge?"

"If the churchmen set up strictly institutional and legal standards for judging marriage, what justification and body of facts can they bring to the support of their standards? Certainly unless they can supply something more than declarations of principle, the younger generation will say that they are begging the whole question of sexual conduct."

"Solomon had 700 wives and 300 concubines, but by the church standards of his own time he was not guilty of 'lax sex relations.' The Koran allowed a man to take four wives, and the Hindu law books do not prohibit polygamy."

"The Churchmen's generalization on divorce also arouses questions. Must all divorce be looked upon as tragic and humiliating? What of the many reasonable and innocent men and women who go into marriage to find themselves mis-mated, agree to part in friendly fashion, and try again? Must they feel tragic and humiliated because they have made a common mistake of youth?"

FREEDOM?

"And why must the free woman be the life mate of one man only? If she is to maintain equality and self-respect? Why not leave the choice as to the number of gentlemen to the lady herself if she is really free?"

"We are living in that particular part of the Western Hemisphere which in the early twentieth century is dominated by a set of religious and social traditions called 'monogamy.' We think it the best form of marriage, but like all other moral institutions this one of monogamy should be tested on its merits to see if the traditional method of sexual life is sound. This test the Federal Council committee has not made—and perhaps cannot make because it is bound in advance by a preconceived notion of sexual right and wrong. It has delivered a series of opinions based upon the assumption that the pattern of the monogamous family is good in itself."

"Because of this preconceived moral pattern the churchmen put the cart before the horse and suggest that the family as an institution is more important than human happiness."

However you may agree or disagree, there's meat on this bone! Put your teeth into it!

YOST BROADWAY

That eternally funny comedian of stage, vaudeville and screen fame, Charlie Murray, rises to new heights in First National's "The Head Man," at the Yost Broadway theater.

The film version of Harry Leon Wilson's novel, "The Boss of Little Arcady," provides Murray his chance to combine whimsically humorous, realistic human characterization with his fun time character he creates in the title role of this picture is akin to that of the stage's immortal "Lightnin'."

Larry Kent, attractive young leading man, and Loretta Young, beautiful little leading lady, supply the romantic element charmingly. Some old ladies of the story, capably enacted by character women, brings roars of mirth. Notable among them are elderly twins, as alike as two ball bearings.

The plot deals with the fall of Murray from a high political situation to that of village drunkard and serial ne'er-do-well, albeit the father of a beautiful girl. Through an ingenious combination of circumstances, he finds himself suddenly elevated again to the position he lost, that of "the head man" of Arcady.

Martha Mattox and Rosa Gore, noted character actresses, are the hilarious twins previously mentioned. Sylvia Ashton, Dot Farley, E. J. Ratcliffe and Irving Bacon have effective roles.

WEST END

The First National special, "Show Girl," with Alice White in the leading role, is proving a drawing card at the West End theater where its amusing situations and authentic reflection of the "age of jazz" in and around New York's Great White Way, are entertaining theater goers.

Life backstage, and in the night clubs and cabarets is pictured in a spirit of comedy touched with burlesque, satire and at times, a touch of pathos.

"Show Girl" was adapted from J. P. McEvoy's best-seller novel of the same title which ran serially in a national weekly and was then published in book form. Literary critics pronounced the novel the very essence of jazz, and of Broadway night club life. It invades the world of the amusement-hungry and the powers that cater to it—the theatrical producer, the show girls, the cabaret hostess, the bootlegger, the press agent, the fringe of politics and the sensational tabloid press.

WEST COAST-WALKER
The largest airplane in America was used by Warner Bros. in their South Pole exploration picture, "Conquest," starring Monte Blue with R. B. Warner and Lois Wilson, and now showing at the Walker theater.

It was the Albatross, a three-motor monoplane owned by the Zenith Aircraft corporation of Santa Ana, and constructed at a cost of $75,000.

Warners employed Lieut. Com. J. E. Dyer of the United States Training station at North Island as technical supervisor on this production. Dyer, it will be remembered, won the 1927 trophy for 1251 hours in the air.

"Conquest" is replete with thrills and adventures extremely timely just now, with all of us aglow over Commander Byrd's exploration of the Antarctic regions, for it recounts the hazardous attempts of two friends to do the same heroic thing and there are countless amazing scenes amid the ice fields of the South Pole. The story has one of the best casts Warner Bros. have ever gathered, including Mr. Blue, H. B. Warner, Lois Wilson, Edmund Breese, Tully Marshall and a host of others.

"Conquest" will be followed by the thrilling special, "Strange Cargo," which will open tomorrow at the Walker theater, and continue for the Saturday performance.

"Oh, I'm just the office boy around here; that's all," smiles Herbert Hoover Jr., who has taken over his new job as radio expert for the Western Air Express at Los Angeles. At the left is young Hoover trying out the radio apparatus at the airport which he will use to direct a fleet of passenger planes and enable passengers to have direct telephonic communication with ground stations. At the left, Hoover is shown turning over a radio weather report to Pilot Francis Miller and, in the inset, marking up the airport weather board from the reports he has just received.

GILFILLAN NOW REPRESENTED IN SANTA ANA

The Sleeper-Huntley Radio company, 212 North Broadway, announced today that it had been appointed exclusive Santa Ana dealer for the Gilfillan radio, manufactured in Los Angeles by one of the oldest radio manufacturers in the industry.

The Santa Ana dealers announced that they had two of the models, the 100 and 66, on display now. The Gilfillan, Sleeper declared, is built in the west and therefore suited to western conditions, which vary greatly from conditions in the middle west and east.

Various units of the Gilfillan, he declared, are designed to insure smooth, silent and unflinching power supply, thus insuring long life for the set. The Gilfillan, according to Sleeper, is especially adapted for excellent reception in noisy areas.

The dealer asserted that Gilfillan, equipped with power dynamic speaker, is not pitched unnaturally low and reproduces naturally from 30 to 6000 cycles. Model 66, he pointed out, is equipped with a power pack having two 210 tubes in push-pull and is powered by 281 rectifier tubes, insuring a tremendous reserve power.

The Gilfillan sets are designed by Frank Jones, of San Francisco, considered one of the foremost radio engineers in the west, who has spent a great deal of his time in the last couple of years perfecting a receiver that would eliminate outside noises.

U. S. AHEAD

Europe has about 245 broadcasting stations, as compared with more than 600 in the United States. The majority of the European stations operate with from 200 to 1000 watts power. Only nine stations on the continent have 10,000 watts or more.

Housecleaning time. Somebody, somewhere, can use your "used" furniture. Let a Register Classified ad find a buyer. Ph. 57 or 68.

PUBLIC STAYS UP LATER NOW TO ENJOY RADIO

The great American public no longer goes to bed at 10 p. m., a recent partial checkup on broadcasting reception indicates. At least the urban portion of it that listens in to broadcast programs doesn't retire at that time. Letters and a house to house survey revealed that almost one-half of the nation's urban population doesn't put the cat out until well after 11 p. m.

"People used to go to bed because there was nothing else to do after 10 p. m.," points out C. A. Earl, president of the Charles Freshman company and chairman of the board of directors of the Freed-Eisemann Radio corporation.

Makes Apartment Survey

"Recently," says Mr. Earl, "I had Joseph M. Koehler, editor of our news department, visit every home in a group of 10 apartment houses in the center of a residential section of New York City between 10:30 and 11 p. m. to find out what percentage of the families were awake at that time and to what programs they were listening. He knocked on 424 doors during the course of his survey and found that 200 families were awake at this time."

Koehler report stated: "Of 200 families who were awake, 100 talked to your investigator and the rest shut their doors in his face due no doubt to the fact that they weren't dressed to receive visitors."

"Therefore this survey is based upon the reports of 100 hundred homes. Of these, 60 had radio sets and of this 60, 50 had them tuned in at 10:30 p. m. The other 10 claimed they weren't interested in the programs that were on the air at that time. The 50 that had their radio sets going were, for the most part, listening in on "dance programs." Actually 42 of the 50 had a dance program coming in from any one of eight different radio stations. Eleven out of the forty-two were interviewed on a Tuesday evening. Six out of this 11 were listening to the Freshman Orchestra from WJZ. Only one family was actually dancing to a program, the rest were 'sitting it out.' Several were reading books as they listened."

Make Sleeping Easier

"The general reaction to listening in at 10:30 p. m. and later was that it made sleeping thereafter easier. In other words, music was being used as it should be, as a means of mental relaxation. They were kept in touch with the world outside by the radio receiver. The lure of a soft bed no longer can resist a good dance orchestra. They take out the pipe and the sewing and lounge around in house coats and negligees perhaps, but they don't go to sleep. They stay awake listening in."

Preston Company Reappointed As Steinite Dealer

The Preston Radio company, Steinite representative in Santa Ana, received a wire yesterday from the Steinite Laboratories company, in Atchison, Kas., informing it that the Collins Kelvinox corporation, of Los Angeles, had been named Southern California distributor of its products, according to W. M. Clark, sales manager for the Preston company.

The Collins company immediately informed the Preston company that the latter had been reappointed exclusive dealer for Steinite products in Santa Ana, according to Clark.

Equality Upset, Says Commission

WASHINGTON, March 28.—B. M. Webster, general counsel of the Federal Radio commission, asserted that the action of the Court of Appeals in favor of WGY in effect takes a cleared channel away from the Fifth zone and awards it to the first zone, since WGY's 50,000 watts is 6 5/7 times as great as KGO's power.

"To that extent," he continued, "the court's action invalidates the Commission's general order, which was directed by the Davis amendment passed by Congress, and calling for an equal division of radio facilities among the five radio zones."

LITTLE, BUT OH MY!

Station KLCN, Bytheville, Ark., operating on a frequency of 1290 kilocycles and using only seven and a half watts, less power than is used to operate an electric iron, has been heard for a distance of more than 1000 miles.

Labor Station Is Now NBC Member

CHICAGO, March 28.—WCFL, Chicago, has been added to the National Broadcasting company's system.

WCFL is owned and operated by The Chicago Federation of Labor and is supplied by The American Federation of Labor. It is supported by subscriptions from the thousands of members of organized labor.

It has a power of 15,000 watts and operates on a frequency of 970 kilocycles (399.1 meters). It recently received a permit from the Federal Radio commission for a 50,000 watt transmitter.

Licensing Policy Of RCA Extended

An important extension of the licensing policy of the Radio Corporation of America, by which the Raytheon Manufacturing company, of Cambridge, Mass., may make and sell tubes under the patents held and the processes developed by the RCA and its associates, was announced today by Gen. James G. Harbord, president of the corporation.

In announcing the new licensing policy, General Harbord declared that the arrangement would give additional stabilizing force to the radio industry.

AVIATORS SOON WILL FOLLOW RADIO PATHWAY

Field, when he will keep on pointing in another narrowing path to New York.

The widest margin of flight in this angular path is about eight or ten miles, or not more than five miles off the course either way, as he turns away from the direct line, the signals become fainter and fainter and the pilot can easily turn back toward the stronger signals.

Code Letters

The signals from each station consist of letters in code. For instance, New York transmits the letter A to the north of the direct line of travel toward Bellefonte, and the letter N, which is the reverse of A in code, south of this line. Bellefonte transmits D to the north toward New York and to the south toward Cleveland, and U to the south toward New York and to the north toward Cleveland. And Cleveland transmits V to the north and B to the south toward Bellefonte.

Each letter is not transmitted as a whole, either. Instead it is broken up and linked with the opposite letter in one unit. Thus, in transmitting D and U from Bellefonte, the originating dash of the D is first sent out, the first dot of the U, then the first dot of the D, then the second dot of the U, then the second dot of the D and then the final dash of the U. Thus both letters are intertwined so that the signal the pilot hears when he is on the exact line of his course is a series of long dashes.

As he flies to the north of this line he hears the north letter of the station he is leaving or approaching. As he flies to the south he hears the south letter. Thus he always knows just exactly where he is along the "radio range."

The means by which the pilot hears these signals is a reed-like apparatus developed at the U. S. Bureau of Standards. Headphones bring the sound of this reed to him. His receiver is the latest type of radio frequency set using screen grid tubes in its two first radio stages, a sensitive detector and two audio amplifying stages.

Seeing the Signals

Besides hearing the signal, the pilot may see them by means of lights operated like the reed. The headphones, however, are now in use.

Yet this radio range isn't all the equipment used to assure safe flying over the Cleveland to New York route. The radio house maintained at the Cleveland airport is standard for all others the U. S. Department of Commerce will provide at similar strategic points. It contains a two-kilowatt transmitter for ground to plane communication and a 500-watt crystal controlled transmitter for station to station work.

Ground to plane communication goes out on a low frequency not only from this but the other two stations. Station to station calls are made on a high frequency, each station having its own allotted wavelength, but all using a common calling frequency of 5940 kilocycles by day and 3370 at night.

Ground to plane communication is made by voice, while station to station calls are made through the teletype machine, generally in code.

The entire radio equipment at Cleveland, Bellefonte and Hadley Field is owned and operated by the airways division of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

We cover the field and can locate and correct trouble on all sets.

Have it done in time for the Easter Broadcast.

GRIGSBY-GRUNOW OFFICIALS

Officials of the Grigsby-Grunow company, manufacturers of Majestic electric radio, shown here, are responsible to a great degree, for the success Majestic has attained in the radio field.

Trio of Hustlers Has Had Much to Do With Success of Majestic

In every great commercial development there have always been two or three outstanding executives at the top of a successful organization, whose efforts have played a great part in its success. The rapid rise of the Grigsby-Grunow company, manufacturers of the Majestic radio, to a leading position in the radio industry, has demonstrated the ability of several members of its executive staff. Three of these, Herbert E. Young, general sales manager; Duane Wanamaker, director of advertising, and James J. Davin, sales promotion manager, are recognized as being in a large way responsible for the tremendous sales record made by the organization with which they are identified.

Young, as general sales manager, directs the activities of more than 50 territorial jobbers throughout the United States and through them more than 12,000 retail dealers who are engaged in selling Majestic.

Wanamaker, also concerned with the Grigsby-Grunow company, directs the advertising of this great concern.

Davin, well known in Southern California through his former connection as sales promotion manager for one of the biggest piano concerns in the United States, took the position of sales promotion manager with the Grigsby-Grunow company less than a year ago and in that time has been responsible for many innovations in merchandising.

CENTRAL RADIO INSTALLED IN N. Y. HOSPITAL

NEW YORK CITY, March 28.—The installation of 36 loud speakers and 211 head sets in the 15 buildings which comprise New York's Municipal hospital on Welfare Island will bring new happiness to 2700 aged inmates. This is the largest and most complete radio-speech system ever installed in any American institution.

Loud speakers have been installed in the 21 wards and day rooms for patients whose condition is such that they may enjoy the various broadcast programs. For bed-ridden inmates head sets are provided, one being allotted to each bed.

Aside from radio entertainment the equipment also provides for an electrified phonograph pick-up so that set programs may be broadcast throughout every part of the hospital. This last innovation also makes it possible to call doctors, nurses and attendants who may be in even the most remote parts of this extensive institution.

EXPORT GUIDE IS COMPILED BY RMA

American radio products will be sold more widely throughout the world under plans announced by the Radio Manufacturers association, 11 West Forty-second street, N. Y. City, to aid its members in developing their foreign sales, especially in Latin America.

A complete radio export guide has just been compiled by the Radio Manufacturers association comprising virtually all prominent makers of all radio products.

The export campaign is expected to increase radio foreign sales, which last year were $12,061,410, as compared with $2,000,000, five years ago.

The radio export guide, prepared under the direction of George H.

design in loud speakers. The dynamic, however, is a precision instrument, and there is a very definite limit to the economies, either in design or material, that can be effected in the manufacture of this instrument if it is to be any better than the ordinary magnetic or moving iron type which sells for a fraction of the price.

In fact, the opposite is true. The dynamic requires more careful design and an almost lavish expense in manufacture if it is to fulfill its real mission—the production of abundant volume and the correct reproduction of the lower three and a half octaves of the piano scale.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAI COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites still stayed out of sight. Then Scouty said, "Isn't right for us to stand so idly by and see the coal men harmed. An awful fuss by them was made when they were picked up in that spade. They don't know what's to happen. It's no wonder they're alarmed."

"Don't be too hasty," Coppy cried. "You'd best stay right here by my side until we see what that big man is planning to do next. He's laughing at the coal men now. He thinks it's all a joke somehow. The way he's acting, really has me very much perplexed."

Then Clowny climbed in. "Look," said he. "Some little railroad tracks I see. They run right by the big hold man. I wonder what's in store. I haven't seen a train round here, but hark, a whistle I can hear. A train is heading this way now. That's what the tracks are for."

And he was right. It wasn't long until, with merry clang and gong, a railroad engine pulled in sight, and chugged down to a stop. "My, what a fine train," Clowny cried. "It's just the sort I'd like to ride, and if I weren't a bit afraid, right on the thing I'd hop."

The man who grabbed the two coal men was slowly on his way again. He walked up to the engine. It had one coal car attached. The big man broke out in a grin, and promptly tossed the coal men in the little car, but they weren't hurt. In fact, not even scratched.

"Oh, look! They're leaving," Scouty cried. "Yes, sir, they're going for a ride." And then he jumped out from the rock and loudly shouted, "Hey!" The two wee coal men waved good-bye, and then one shouted, with a sigh, "We're now bound for a coal yard which is many miles away."

(The Tinymites meet a new friend in the next story.)

Court Notes

The will of the late Ita B. Wood, who died March 21, in Santa Ana, was filed for probate today by Agnes Carroll, Santa Ana, and Eva Wood, Saugus, who were named as executrices in the will. The property is valued at not over $10,000. Beatrice B. Wood, daughter, Pasadena, and W. Raymond Wood, son, of Pasadena, also were named as heirs.

Property valued at not over $10,000 was left by the late Calvin Hemstreet, who died Feb. 8, 1928, according to a petition for letters of administration in the estate, filed today by Floyd S. Hemstreet, son, of Los Angeles.

Charging desertion, William J. Adams today brought suit for divorce against Myrtle L. Adams. They were married in 1922 and separated in 1927, the complaint stated.

Asserting that the Business Men's association, of Santa Ana, claims an interest in $160 held by Preston Turner for them, Albert and Ethel Crawford today brought suit against the association, seeking to have its claims declared void.

Ray E. Langley today brought suit against Bill Parsons and La Verne Penman, seeking to foreclose a chattel mortgage on garage equipment at "Bill's" garage, Capistrano Beach. The mortgage was security for a $1500 note on which a default has been made in payments, the complaint declared.

Seeking to quiet title to property in San Clemente, the Bank of America today brought suit against Tom Sumner and others.

R. L. Bott, Margaret Bott, R. H. Chapin and Jessie I. Chapin brought suit today against the Black Cat Oil company and others, seeking to quiet title to property in Huntington Beach.

Claiming that Charles W. Vernon had entered an agreement with him on Feb. 8, 1927, to pay him $340 in 120 days, in return for a valuable consideration, and that Vernon had not kept the agreement, J. H. Macklin today brought suit against him, seeking to recover the amount alleged to be due.

Frank W. Green, Mrs. Nellie Kanouse and Mrs. Anna Phillips today started court action seeking to foreclose a mortgage on Santa Ana property, naming as defendants Benjamin Walker, Nina Walker and others. According to the complaint, the mortgage secured a $1000 promissory note, on which there has been an alleged default in payments. The note was given to Luella Green, deceased, and is now held by the plaintiff, the complaint stated.

The Western Loan and Building company today brought suit against F. R. Baker and others, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on Orange county property, alleged to have been security for a $2000 first mortgage note. A sum of $1717.82, with interest from Sept. 16, 1928, at 10 per cent is alleged to be due.

Eminent Scientist Is Complimented at Dinner Party

as her center arrangement with small cut glass baskets of sweet peas and blue daisies at either end of the table. Tall rose dinner tapers shed their soft glow on the charming garden effect.

During the interesting evening which followed, Dr. Fish went deeper into his work as a scientific investigator, and told of some of the disappointments which he had experienced especially in reference to his present chief interest, the study of cancer cells. For like so many of the great men in the scientific world of today, Dr. Fish is endeavoring to trace back to the origin and reason for this "cell tissue gone mad" which is the greatest scourge of the race.

In line with the subject of investigations in the South American jungles, Miss Louise Montgomery offered for inspection, a pair of rare old vases or goblets which had been sent her from near Georgetown, in British Guiana. Graceful in form, and embellished with exquisite inlays of gold and silver, the goblets are priceless in value, and would be the joy of a collector's heart.

Mrs. Montgomery had the assistance of her daughters, the Misses Louise and Gertrude Montgomery, in greeting and entertainment of the guests.

on the wonderful results from the use of

VIGORO

The beautiful estate of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Oyster Bay, Long Island—kept in perfect condition with Vigoro. "Not only on lawns and flowers has Vigoro shown good results," says C. Balocco, head gardener, "but on the vegetable garden as well."

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden uses Vigoro on his estate—Sinnissippi Farm. "Vigoro, I find, provides the complete nourishment that all plant life needs," says Wm. L. Austin, gardener for Lowden Estates. "I would greatly recommend it to any home owner for real assurance of success."

"We have used Vigoro on shrubs and flowers. It brings the results promised," says Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C.

Vigoro is very economical. Priced at your lawn supply dealer at from 60c a 5-lb. can to $6.00 per 100-lb. sack.

MUTT AND JEFF—Well, You Know What a Wise-Cracker Mutt Is

YES, OLD DEAR, THERE'S A BALLY RUMOR AT THE LION TAMERS' CLUB THAT YOU HAD PASSED ON, BUT I SEE YOU'RE QUITE O.K.

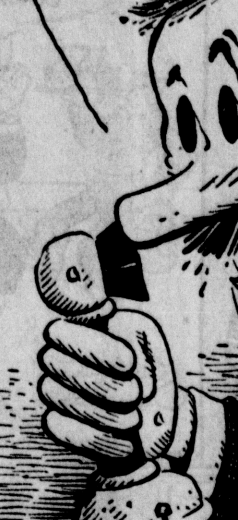

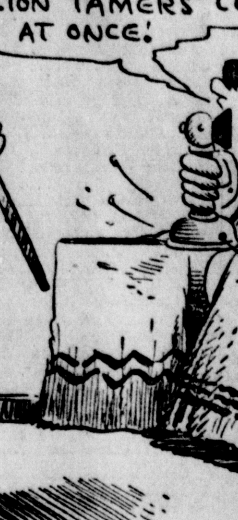

IT'S SO SILLY, SIR SID! WHY, I HAD A PLATE OF TRIPE A FEW MINUTES AGO! DEAD MEN DON'T EAT TRIPE!

OH, FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE, I JUST HAPPENED TO THINK ABOUT MUTT! IF HE'S HEARD THAT RUMOR ABOUT ME, HE'LL BE WORRIED SICK! HELLO CENTRAL! I WANT TO SPEAK TO MISTER MUTT AT THE LION TAMERS' CLUB AT ONCE!

YES, JEFF, THIS IS MUTT! WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND?

MUTT, DID YOU HEAR THE RUMOR ABOUT ME KICKING-OFF?

YES! HOW'S THE CLIMATE DOWN THERE? HOT?

EVENING SALUTATION

"And if our passing leaves the wider shore
A place less lovely than it was before,
Yet will God's fingers smooth it out once more."

PROMOTING PEACE THROUGH PREPAREDNESS

President Coolidge has written an article which appears in the April number of the Ladies Home Journal. His article is on the subject of "Promoting Peace Through Preparations for Defense."

We believe we have heard of such a subject before. In fact our recollections of history and our knowledge of frontier fights all suggest to us that 95 per cent of the scraps, public or private, are due to the effort to promote peace through arms.

President Coolidge has a new suggestion. He says we should be so well protected that no nation would dare attack us, and yet should be so inadequately prepared that we would not dare attack any other nation. Now wouldn't that be ideal? We move that every nation be just that "adequately" "inadequately" armed. Of course, there are probably no three people in this great democracy, who are intelligent on the subject, who would absolutely agree as to just when either point had been reached. There would be millions at a certain point that would feel we were sufficiently armed to justify us attacking, while millions of others would feel that we had not even reached the point where we were safe from attack.

Take it in the case of an individual. As it is we carry no arms personally. We feel perfectly safe from attack. We certainly will not be attacked by an unarmed individual. Now just how much arming would we have to do to insure that we would not attack another man because we were inadequately armed, but would be safe from attack from another individual because we were so well armed. Would a revolver stowed away in our hip pocket be sufficient, or would it require one on each hip? Would the gun have to be in sight? Should it be a shot gun? You are more certain of hitting your man with a shot gun. Or would rifles be better insurance?

And then we reach the point where we are reminded that two men were killed recently on a game preserve by a man with a rifle. He probably took it to insure his protection, but the men are dead and the slayer stands convicted.

President Coolidge takes considerable of his space in emphasizing the requisites for order. Arming our peace officers for the preservation of order is an entirely different question from enlarging our armaments for either offensive or defensive international warfare. To attempt to parallel the arming of peace officers to protect us with criminals is to place other nations in that category, and there would be as valid ground for every individual to be armed and have his home a fort as it would be to argue from the police officer to the army.

Speaker Shanahan of the Illinois House of Representatives was given the job of appointing a committee of seven to investigate what state legislators are on other pay rolls. People who think being speaker of the Illinois House is a pretty nice job seem to be slightly wrong.

MAY HOPE FOR PEACEFUL METHODS

Harry Carr, writing from Mexico, after declaring that the rebellion in Mexico had played out and referring to the many evidences of the disintegration of the movement says:

"Not only that, but it is the end of all revolutions in Mexico as a mode of thought and a custom of life."

"This era of revolutions began with the downfall of Porfirio Diaz. One revolution has followed another because various adventurers were greedy to reap the prodigious financial rewards that came by overturning governments."

"The game has played out. There will be no sporadic revolutions from time to time in isolated places. Even these will die out as Mexico gets good roads and railroad communication whereby it will be possible for the government to ship troops rapidly."

We are glad that his keen observation finds sufficient evidence to bring him to this conclusion while he is right on the ground. It is a distinct relief to those who have the interest of Mexico at heart to realize that whatever changes may come in her government or social life must come, not as a result of violence, but by the orderly process of constitutional government, by evolution rather than by revolution.

We have been of this opinion from the very outbreak of this revolution. We believe the government had the situation fairly well in hand and are glad to note that the facts are bearing out this conclusion.

The results are bound to have a very lasting effect upon Mexico's current life. It will be more difficult for the dissatisfied, the adventurous and the ambitious to enlist men and money in an effort to stampede the army and the government. While Mexico has had some differences with the United States, her government leaders are learning from her, or in some manner at least, how to establish and keep order.

One of these days some fellow is going to hurl himself into immortal fame by reaching his 95th birthday and telling reporters he knows nothing about practically everything.

DIDN'T KNOW WHEN HE WAS WELL OFF

We are beginning to conclude that President Hoover is a bear for punishment. He has installed a telephone right at his elbow where he can talk and receive conversation.

The telephone has not been in the private office of the President up to this time. The ringing of the telephone and the interruption interfere with a great many conferences and conversations. According to salesmen, they absolutely destroy a great many deals. We have no doubt, however, that a telephone call that actually reaches the President will be rare indeed, probably limited to members of his family and the cabinet.

Oh, we suppose there are exceptions. King George or Will Rogers might be able to worm his way in.

TALKIES BY THE "ENGLISH"

If we can believe the news, the English of the "talkies" is going to be that which is imported from the British Isles. United States will not be used, according to the dispatches.

The English object to the accent of the Americans in the "talkies," and we know they dislike the accent and the twang of the average American as a tourist. We all know that the Englishmen are softer spoken, and they insist, have a finer accent than do the people of the United States.

We wonder if the people of this country will get the kick out of the "talkies," however, with the English accent used that they would if it were spoken by natives. Soon all will be able to appreciate the joke appearing on the sign of a French restaurant, "English spoken, United States understood."

News dispatches from Florida have been disconcerting, but maybe the advertisers will tell us what kind of cigar did Major Segrave smoke when he hit that 231 miles an hour?

DID HIM LITTLE GOOD

Eugene H. Schmitz, Mayor of San Francisco during the notorious days of Abe Reuf, has passed into the beyond. The report says he left an estate of less than $10,000. This is not very much in these days.

Schmitz came into the lime light as a result of a great fight against graft, corruption, and bribery. He was the very center of it and was supposed to be a great beneficiary of this boodle crowd. If he were, it has all disappeared. He lived with a blasted reputation. His administration was a blight on the city.

Five Million Flappers

The Cleveland Plain Dealer

Perhaps we display lamentable ignorance, but we never have understood that a lady of 30 is properly a flapper. Of course we do know some ladies of 30 would like to be considered flappers, but we feel that the majority of young women who have attained this highly agreeable maturity must rather shudder at the designation.

Inasmuch as the word "flapper" came to us from England where it was in vogue long before it came to these western shores we concede that English usage should prevail. And accordingly when England unanimously classes her female citizens between the ages of 21 and 30 as "flappers" we must blink and acquiesce.

There are over 5,000,000 of these mature British flappers, and at present they are the most important 5,000,000 in the great United Kingdom. At the general elections to be held in May they will vote for the first time, and everyone is wondering just how they will vote and how intelligently.

When American women won the franchise the 21-year-olds were included. Sedate Britain fixed the nether limit of female votability at 30. It required many years of cautious cogitation to bring the limit down to the arbitrary 21. And some of the more cautious cogitators are still glooming, and predicting disaster.

As a matter of fact there will be nothing resembling a disaster. The 5,000,000 enfranchised flappers will vote just about as the rest of the electorate votes. Perhaps the youth of the voters may bring an imponderable addition to the liberal or radical candidates, but in the main the only difference will be that there will be more votes to count.

All over England schools are being established for the benefit of conscientious flappers who wish to learn something about politics and government. Again we may be all wrong, but we venture a guess that these schools will not be overcrowded. If the British flapper (so-called) is anything like the young women of the United States of America she is already convinced that she will vote as intelligently as her elders. And the funny part of it is that she is probably correct in this assumption.

Boy Scouts Cool, Bold In Flood

Passadena Star-News

Trust Boy Scouts anywhere to be cool and courageous in the face of danger. A party of twenty-one Scouts, under a scoutmaster, had gone to a house in the wilds along a small creek in Tennessee to camp over the week-end. In the night there was a cloudburst and the creek rose to dangerous flood stage. One of the boys was awakened by the oncoming flood and warned the others. The Scoutmaster ordered the boys to the roof. They perched there awhile, when the rising waters carried the house off. When the building began to disintegrate, the boys jumped and swam for it. The scoutmaster and eleven of the boys managed to cling to a driftwood raft for a time, and some of them were rescued later. A few lodged in a tree and were saved. While the house stood against the flood the boys wig-waged SOS to the helpless crowds gathered on the opposite bank. Here is the tribute that the press association report of the tragedy gave to the Boy Scouts:

"Those rescued were saved because the Scouts used the lessons they had learned from their manual . . . All of the scores who joined in the rescue late today praised the boys and echoed the report that the Scouts went through the ordeal like the soldiers whose garb theirs resembles."

Whether in Tennessee or in Minnesota; whether in California or in Maine; whether in Washington or in Florida—wherever Boy Scouts are found, there may be found traits of manly courage and resourcefulness and heroism in danger that reflect great credit upon this worthy organization.

Hard to Make the Law Fit the Special Case

San Francisco Chronicle

George Young, a World War veteran, born in America, wounded at the Somme came back to this country recently but has been returned to England by the immigration authorities at New York. A statement of these facts at once arouses sympathy for Young and is likely to cause criticism of the immigration authorities among those inclined to snap judgment.

But the fact is that Young is not an American citizen. In 1915, when he enlisted in the British army he renounced his citizenship. The immigration officers, charged with enforcing the law, have no option as to Young. He can come in only through the regular channels, by getting himself listed in the British quota.

Yet the case excites deserved sympathy. Young's mother and brother live in Connecticut. They want George home and paid his passage here. It is one of those cases which President Hoover has had in mind when he said that the only modification of present regulations he favors is that which would facilitate the reunion of families. Whatever is done in that direction should include American families as well as those of aliens who have come to America.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A MATTER OF GRAY MATTER

Dr. Clark, of Teachers' College, declares that education cuts earning power.

While my Uncle Abijah was going to college, As a means of achieving his ardent desire For the sharpness of wit and voluminous knowledge Which attorneys at law are supposed to require My Uncle Leander, who looked upon scholars As milkops and sissies, who weren't very smart Was learning the value of hard silver dollars By driving McCasidy's grocery cart.

My Uncle Abijah, though versed very deeply In Parsons on Contracts and Burdick on Torts Was obliged all his lifetime to live very cheaply For he never was much of a star in the courts. My Uncle Leander, though lacking in learning And always abraded just back of the ears, In matters of business grew shrewd and discerning And now, wealthy, thinks lightly of college careers.

My Cousin Erasmus, who held erudition And those who achieved it in reverent awe Saved all of his pennies to pay his tuition For a difficult course in a college of law, My Cousin Elsha would learn no profession, Believing it wiser to take up a trade, He hoped upon business to make an impression By starting in life as a bricklayer's aide.

My Cousin Erasmus is wealthy and noted, He is one of the few who have carved out careers. My Cousin Elsha that same hod has toted Every working day now for some twenty-five years. And so, though I own it is highly distressful, Whether college bred men wake the world up or not Unretorted lads are extremely successful Depends a good deal on the brains they have got! Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

LEARN THIS FROM EVE

A group of men once took a vote on the habit in others that irritated them most.

One said it was the habit of squeezing a tube of tooth-paste in the middle instead of at the end.

Another the habit of leaving the cap off a fountain pen after using it.

Another unpunctuality.

And refusing to pay honest debts.

But the one that was given the most votes of all was the habit of "passing the buck," of trying to make an innocent party suffer for errors the person committed himself.

Nothing reduces the respect of others as much as seeing someone try to squirm out of a mistake and attempt to make others bear the blame for it which he ought to take himself.

Yet nothing is more common or more easy to do.

To avoid it requires, like the preservation of liberty, eternal vigilance.

When a little boy knocks a ball through a neighbor's window, the first thing that he thinks of is to run. When he grows older and is cornered in a mistake, the first thing he thinks of is to get out of it as best he can.

Only when the boy or the man has planned out in advance what he is to do when he suddenly finds himself in such a situation, does he avoid following the first impulse to run or to pass the buck to others.

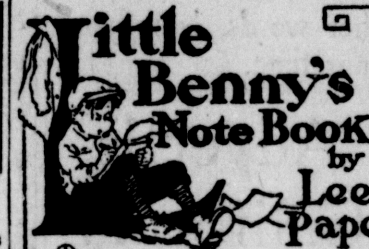

"Hit and Run" drivers who speed away when they have injured a pedestrian, and brand themselves thereby as the worst kind of cowards, act before they have time to think.

The only way to avoid running away from a mistake or trying to shoulder it on others is to get into your subconscious mind the idea that isn't what you are going to do when met by such a situation.

If you make up your mind that the next time you make a mistake you will stand on your own feet and take your medicine, and think it strong enough, and often enough, it will become part of your subconscious mind.

Then the glib words that attempt to "pass the buck" will not jump out of your mouth before you know what has happened when a mistake of your own appears.

Besides being the most irritating habit to others, "passing the buck" is one of the most futile.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

This afternoon when ma came home I sed, Hay ma, what's you think, I got a serpsie for you.

And I ran up in my room and got it, being a little ice cream freezer, saying, Here you are, ma, aint that swell, some man rang the bell and left it for you free of charge for nothing, you dont haff to tern it or anything, you juet put stuff in and it terns to ice cream all by itself, aint that swell, ma.

But what are you talking about, you say some man left it for me as a present? ma sed, and I sed, Yes mam, some man with a little pointy mustash.

Dont be silly, men dont do that sort of thing, ma sed, and I sed, Well this one did, ma he had a lot of them in a automobile, he sed you could have your choice of this or a clock so I took this for you because you got a lot of clocks and you didnt have any ice cream freezer, hows that for a bargain to get for nothing, ma?

And you mean to say he didnt want me to sine anything or anything? ma sed, and I sed, Not about the ice cream freezer he didnt, ma, all he wanted you to sine was about subscribing for some magazines, only you wasent home so I went in and sined your named for you because I knew you wouldnt want to miss getting a ice cream freezer for nothing, heer it is ma.

Meening the paper I sined, saying on it, The undersigned hereby agrees to subscribe at the special price of $14.75 for the following family group of magazines for one year, Home Decorating, Sincere Stories, The Childs Weekly, American Bizness, College Comicalities, The Ladies Monthly Budget and Counsellor, Chorus Geris confessions and Spiritual Life, for which our agent will collect at the rate of $2 a week every Monday.

Not for me he wont, well of all things, ma sed, As if there wasent enuff truck around the house now without letting in a perfect flood of crazy magazines at $2 a week from now to doomsday, Ill give that man back his paper and his freezer the first Monday he shows his nose at my frunt door.

Wich she properly will no matter how much I argew from now till then.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files 14 Years Ago Today

MARCH 28, 1915.

The Boys' Glee club of Santa Ana high school was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chapman, of 1061 West Third street, at a dinner party. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, Miss Mary Ely, Ralph Beals, Eugene Trago, Robert Hill, Homer Holzgrafe, Harold Holzgrafe, Paul Plavan, Arthur Udder, Raymond Keeney, John Cannon, Frank Biggs, Joe Irvine, Arthur Shipley, Hugh Osborne, Floyd Fuller, and Frank Chapman.

Miss Jane Murdy's seventieth birthday anniversary, was the occasion for a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty, French street.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

DO WE NEED A SECULAR BIBLE?

Today is the birthday of a Bohemian educational reformer and theologian, Johann Amos Comenius, whose life and ideas still make lively reading although Comenius has been dead 259 years. Comenius was a dreamer of that growing army of educators who want education to be something that follows nature rather than something foisted upon nature, probably in violation of its character and needs.

But I want today to recall but one of his most ambitious dreams. Comenius wrote a book with the Latin title Prodomus Pansophiae. In this book Comenius proposed the compilation of a common book, covering the whole round of human knowledge, and selecting from each field of knowledge those facts that every man should know in order to understand his world and to live wisely and work worthily in it, this book to be made the basis of education the world around.

We have gone past the time when men thought that the purpose of education was the accumulation of information. We are now inclined to agree with John Ruskin that education is not teaching people to know what they do not know, but to behave as they do not behave, that education is to be judged not by the knowledge accumulated, but by the habits, powers, and interests developed.

We are today awed by the amount of modern knowledge and have given up any attempt to teach it at all. But Comenius's idea of a common book of necessary knowledge as a kind of foundation and frame work for the thought and imagination of all men in all nations bobs up every now and then even at this late date.

H. G. Wells was feeling his way toward a part of such a project when he wrote his "Outline of History." He has further stated that we need to prepare and publish a Bible of Civilization, a book that should follow, more or less, the formula of our existing Bible. It should, Mr. Wells thinks, pull together the latest and best of modern knowledge in the following fields:

The origin and nature of the physical world, a kind of Genesis; the modern geologists would write; the evolution of civilization; sound rules for physical, mental, and moral living; the liabilities and assets of our existing economic organization of life and work.

These and like matters Mr. Wells would put into a kind of secular bible, putting beside it a few further volumes of important but essential writings, much like the Apocryphal books of our existing Bible. Then he would have a Book of Forecasts of where our world is going, somewhat in the manner of the ancient books of the Prophets in our existing Bible. Comenius must be smiling as he sees his idea decked out in the phrases of Mr. Wells after these 259 years.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

MOTHER'S HOUR OFF

"We missed you at the concert this afternoon."

"Yes, wasn't it too bad? Buster cut his finger and I thought he might be fussy so I stayed at home with him."

"And you didn't get to the garden club meeting last month, did you?"

"I was so sorry about that. I did want to hear about the perennial border but what could I do? The wash hadn't come home and I waited for it the whole afternoon. You know how they are—always short something so I waited and waited and they never came."

So it goes. The mother of the family thinks she cannot go out, knows that she cannot rest an hour, believes firmly that the whole family structure would collapse if she were to take a week off, and so never gets a chance to rest her mind and body.

No worker can do good work with such a schedule. There must be a place in the daily schedule for the rest hour. Sometimes it is an hour in bed; sometimes it is an afternoon spent playing some game, listening to a good concert, or a fine lecture, or going to a flower show, an art exhibition, or the circus or some hilarious play.

A mother needs to play. Children live in their play and unless the mother's nerves are steady, unless her spirit is tuned to childish spirits, the association with children in the home brings on irritation and temper storms and sick headaches. Mother must play.

I know the baby may cry. I am not hard hearted when I say that it does not matter if he does. If there is some trusted member of the family to care for him it will do him good to know a fresh personality intimately. It is not broadening the child's life when you confine him to the care of one person. It is blinding him fast when you accustom him to being handled, fed, petted and caressed by just one person, his mother. Better for mother and child if they learn to live apart for an hour or so daily.

When the children are old enough to do a few things about the house it is only fair to let them have the chance to do their best. If the mother goes out of the house and lets the children take charge for an afternoon she gives them a chance to learn how to live with each other and for each other.

Yes I know they will quarrel, and they will mess things, and they will muddle about, but they will muddle through, too. It is a form of maternal selfishness when children are never left to help themselves and each other because mother cannot be spared. Suppose mother had to be spared?

Many a mother has reared a family of children and stayed so close by that she crammed all her life span into those few years and passed on leaving those children to another's care at the time when they surely needed her. Take the hour off, take the day off; take your annual vacation, you, mother of a family. You will serve your children better and stay with them longer.

A PRESIDENT CENSURED

Ninety-five years ago today the dignified way of the United States Senate chamber echoed unprecedented proceedings on the floor. For the first time in the history of the country, staid senators were so annoyed by the actions of the chief executive that a resolution of censure was introduced, argued long and bitterly and finally passed.

The president was Andrew Jackson, and in 1837, three years after its passage, the resolution was expunged by vote from the record. Incidents leading up to its passage were as colorful as have featured the administration of any president. Jackson was a bitter foe of the moneyed interests and believed that the United States bank system was detrimental to the common people.

He ordered government deposits removed from it. A course of action which his cabinet did not approve. His secretary of the treasury refused to carry out the order, so Jackson removed him and appointed Roger B. Taney. Taney's appointment was not ratified by the senate, so Jackson made him chief justice of the United States.
